ORDER JURY QUIZ IN PAMPHLET CASE

7000 Picket S. F. Shopping Area

35 BIGGEST STORES HIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. —(UP)—Several thousand salesgirls and clerks went on strike in 35 of San Francisco's biggest department stores today, practically paralyzing the city's famous shopping district.

The stores opened for "business as usual," but hundreds of pickets, mostly women, made shopping difficult as they booed and jeered persons who attempted to enter. Scores of police patrolled the district.

Hiring Dispute

The A. F. of L. retail clerks' union called the strike in a dispute over preferential hiring. Store executives said the union's demand was tantamount to the hiring hall. Union leaders charged the stores refused to arbitrate.

The union claimed 7000 of its members were out and that 24 other unions, including teamsters, elevator operators and janitors, agreed to observe picket lines.

Store executives said the number of strikers was "far below" the union's estimate.

Handle Shoppers

The Emporium, one of the biggest department stores in the West, announced half its force of 1700 employes were on the job. The management said non-selling employes, such as advertising men, were pressed into service behind the counters to handle shoppers.

More than 300 police were assigned on call for strike duty. Acting Chief Charles Skelly ordered his men to "see that no violations of law are permitted, to prevent any blockading of streets and sidewalks."

Double Lines

Pickets paraded in double lines in front of most of the stores. They let out loud boos and sounded the "bird" whenever anyone—worker or shopper—passed their lines.

A few skirmishes between pickets and workers were reported. They were minor, however. Police quickly restored order.

Police reported a flying wedge of

Plan Rites For Noted Mormon

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 7.—(UP)— Funeral services will be conducted Friday in the L. D. S. tabernacle here for J. Golden Kimball, 85-year-old senior president of the Mormon Church First Council of Seventy. Kimball was killed Monday near Fallon, Nev., when an automobile in which he was riding overturned.

Church President Heber J. Grant will head the list of L. D. S. leaders who will speak at the services. Other speakers will include David O. McKay, second counselor to Grant; George A. Smith, member of the Council of 12 Apostles, and Rufus K. Hardy, member of the First Council of Seventy.

Schedule Rites For Crash Victim

VISALIA, Sept. 7.—(UP) — The body of Mrs. Ellen Howard, 55, of Visalia, was being brought here today for burial after she was fatally injured in an automobile accident 13 miles south of Sacramento late yesterday.

Highway officers said the Howard automobile overturned and burst into flames after a tire blew out.

The woman's husband, Frank Howard, Visalia laundry owner, two daughters, Mabel and Ethel Howard and a niece, Bernice Perason, were returning from a visit in Sacramento, when the accident occurred.

See Victory For FDR Foe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(UP)—The inside word in the capital today is that Maryland Democrats probably will renominate Sen. Millard E. Tydings, anti-New Dealer classed by President Roosevelt among the "conservative-reactionary" Democrats.

Prospects for the nomination of the New Deal candidate, Rep. David J. Lewis, lie principally upon a possible ground swell of reaction to Mr. Roosevelt's Labor Day speech at Denton, Md., in which he endorsed his man, or upon last-minute organization miracles by Postmaster General James A. Farley.

Lewis supporters, however, are moderately confident and there is a tendency among many disinterested observers to forecast a close race. The intimation that strategists are about reconciled to Lewis' defeat comes from a qualified and reliable source. There was no suggestion that the President, himself, had given up the battle.

Mr. Roosevelt did deliberately undertake a losing fight in South Carolina against Sen. Ellison D. (Cotton Ed) Smith. He was attempting there—and the same strategy may prevail in Maryland—to educate the electorate on the issue of liberalism versus conservatism, which he intends shall be paramount in the 1940 Presidential campaign.

NEW DEAL FOE IS WINNER IN NEVADA

RENO, Nev., Sept. 7.—(UP)—Sen. Pat McCarran, opponent of President Roosevelt's governmental and supreme court reorganization proposals, was re-nominated today on the basis of returns from yesterday's Democratic primary.

With less than 50 of the state's 262 precincts missing McCarran had a lead of more than three to one over Albert Hilliard, who campaigned on a platform of 100 per cent support for the President. Dr. John E. Worden, third Democratic candidate who also said he would be a solid supporter of the New Deal, was put out of the race almost from the start.

Leads All Counties

McCarran led in all the state's 17 counties. The tend of voting was much as had been predicted. Betting commissioners had offered even money that Hilliard would not carry more than two counties and that McCarran's total vote would exceed Hilliard's by four to

Injuries Fatal To Fresno Man

FRESNO, Sept. 7.—(UP)—John Martin, 37, of Fresno, injured when his automobile was struck by a Santa Fe railroad train, died early today in a local hospital.

Coroner John N. Lisle said he would conduct an inquest into the death.

The accident occurred early yesterday morning. The strain struck Martin's car and threw it 40 feet from the intersection.

Martin's body was hurled 15 feet from the demolished machine.

CAN'T BLAME HIM!

AURORA, Ill., Sept. 7.—(UP)—Robert Robinson withdrew today his offer to let Cleon Mivler, Chicago, claimant to the world's archery championship, shoot an apple off his head with a bow and arrow. Robinson was watching yesterday while Miller was shooting balloons held by Albert Bennett. One of the shots went wild and pierced Bennett's lung.

AMBERGRIS -- $17,000 WORTH -- DISCOVERED BY ORANGE YOUTH

You've read stories of men who went searching for gold and eventually found it, but this is a story of an Orange youth who took a day off, and went to the beach in search of ambergris, most valued of all sea products, and found it!

In Hospital

William Powell, debonair screen star, entered Cedars of Lebanon hospital today for a serious operation, to be performed tomorrow or Friday by Dr. E. Clarence Moore. The operation, Dr. Moore said, will be a corrective process following an abdominal surgery upon the actor a year ago. Powell has been in poor health since the death 15 months ago of his close friend, Jean Harlow, to whom he often was reported engaged.

This almost unbelievable story was unraveled today from the excited lips of Robert V. Clark, 20-year-old Orange athlete and graduate of Santa Ana Junior college, who has picked up on the beach near Corona Del Mar some 35 pounds of the "sea gold" valued at $17,000 during the past week.

Used almost exclusively in the making of perfumes, ambergris is valued, according to its consistency, between $17 and $30 an ounce. It may be some time before Clark is able to cash in on his find, however, because the market is in New York.

Meanwhile, excitement reigned along several miles of this particular coast line as reports of smaller finds were made by close friends of Clark and swimmers in the Corona Del Mar vicinity. An unknown Santa Ana youngster is reported to have picked up an 18-pound chunk. Dick Gunther, Robert Heuck and Richard Witt, all of Orange, have several pounds in their possession.

Clark, who is better known by his friends as just plain Bob read a story in a Los Angeles morning paper of August 27, which told of

INVESTIGATE DEATH OF SPANISH PRINCE

MIAMI, Sept. 7.—(UP)—An inquest was called today for Friday in the auto-crash death of the Count of Covadonga. Chief witness will be Mildred Gaydon 25-year-old beauteous cabaret cigarette girl and the last of a series of attractive women to whom the gay and handsome count had paid attention.

She was held today on a technical charge of manslaughter pending outcome of the inquest.

Await Word

Meanwhile the body of the count was held in an undertaking parlor while instructions regarding funeral services and burial were awaited from the count's father, exiled King Alfonso XIII of Spain.

The count, fun loving eldest son of the former Spanish ruler, shorn of his right to possible succession to the now non-existent throne be-

Name Eight In Old Murder Case

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—(UP)—Eight persons, including an alleged Chicago racketeer, two prominent Los Angeles cleaners and dyers and two convicts, were named today in a murder complaint accusing them with the slaying eight years ago of a Negro watchman in a cleaners and dyers "war."

Those named in the complaint signed by Deputy District Attorney George Stahlman were: Frankie Fisher and Edward Freedman now serving prison terms; George Gartler and Robert Cowan, owners of cleaning establishments, and Eddie Rollins, sought in Chicago. Three others sought were identified only as "John Does."

Gartler is owner of a Hollywood cleaning establishment in the rear lot of which district attorney's investigators recently dug up a large quantity of chemicals and explosives in a drum which apparently had been buried for several years.

Burns Fatal To Crash Victim

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 7.—(UP)—Another violent death was added to the Labor day roster today when W. E. Watkins, 55, San Diego, died of burns suffered in an automobile accident near Flinn Springs Saturday.

Watkins was trapped in his blazing car when it plunged down an embankment. His wife Florence, was killed instantly in the same accident.

AUTO CRASH FATAL TO BELL RESIDENT

Mrs. Margaret C. Malone, 54, 6250 Woodlawn street, Bell, was fatally injured at 8:30 p. m. yesterday when cars driven by her husband, John B. Malone, 55, and Homer Wilbur Eich, 40, San Bernardino, collided. Her death was the 46th in Orange county traffic this year as compared with 65 for the same period last year.

The accident occurred at La Mirada avenue and Telegraph road, north of Buena Park. Mrs. Malone died three hours after the accident, at Fullerton general hospital, from internal and head injuries.

Mrs. Malone's body was removed to McAulay and Suters funeral chapel, Fullerton, where an inquest is pending, according to Deputy Coroner Bert Castiex. California highway officers, who investigated, were informed by witnesses that one of the drivers assertedly failed to make a boulevard stop. Blame, if any, for the accident, will be established when the inquest is held, officials said.

Arizona Political Leader Killed

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 7.—(UP)—Political leaders throughout Arizona sent messages of condolence today to the family of C. M. Zander, veteran state political leader who was killed yesterday with Charles Grosso in an airplane crash at Benson, Ariz.

Zander, 61, was seeking the Democratic nomination for governor after a career in state affairs which began in 1893 when the territorial government was fighting for statehood. He had been secretary of state, and a member of the state tax commission and was secretary of the board of directors of all state institutions at the time of his death.

The accident occurred at the Benson airport where several hundred persons had gathered to greet him. Grosso, businessman-pilot, apparently lost control of the ship when it was caught by a gust of wind and it crashed to the ground from an altitude of 1000 feet.

New Czech Crisis Seen

PRAGUE, Sept. 7.—(UP)— The Henlein party executives announced in a communique today that they had suspended their study of the Czechoslovak government's new proposals because of further incidents involving Sudetens.

Henlein leaders said the incidents included the death of a Sudeten German party member, Alfred Kloll, who had been accused of spying.

Threatened

Another incident cited was the complaint of two leading Sudeten deputies, Fritz Koellner and Karl May, who charged that police at Maehrisch Ostrau had threatened to beat them and intimidated a crowd of Sudeten Germans who turned out to welcome them to the town.

The deputies, in a telegram to the Czechoslovak interior ministry, demanded severe punishment of the policemen.

They said they went to Maehrisch Ostrau to discuss minority affairs with the authorities. Mounted police, they declared, charged the Sudeten welcoming crowd and threatened to whip the deputies and the crowd.

Another cause of tension was a Czech government complaint that six German planes, five of them military, had flown over Czech territory.

The Sudeten announcement that study of the new Czech proposals had been suspended caused grave concern to the British mediation mission by Viscount Runciman.

Premier Milan Hodza had just handed the Czech government's "last word" minority plan to Ernst Kundt, Sudeten leader, with an explanatory note. The plan, it was said, was designed to make the Sudeten party's own demands an acceptable basis for negotiations, and optimism was aroused over the prospects of a compromise.

FRANCE IN SERIES OF DEFENSE MOVES

PARIS, Sept. 7.—(UP)—France's dramatic reinforcement of her Maginot fortifications on the German frontier was but the first of a series of military moves due to continue throughout this week, it was said today on the highest authority.

The first phase has been completed. Army chiefs have assured the government, it was learned today, that they have guaranteed the frontier against successful attack.

Speed Organization

The second and third phases, proceeding coincidently, are to strengthen the military organization in the interior and to get the North African colonial army on an emergency basis.

Infantry reservists who recently completed their regular army service, and who received training as specialists in the Maginot line, are

Drive Starts To Fight Single Tax

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—(UP)—A statewide council was formed by 30 California groups today to oppose the single tax initiative which is to appear on the November ballot.

C. C. Teague, Santa Paula, general chairman of the council, said that school, welfare, public official, civic, farm, commercial and other groups were united in the council.

Vincent Kennedy, San Francisco, was named chairman of a statewide co-ordinating committee. Mrs. J. R. Lytle, Los Angeles; C. R. Grier, San Bernardino; Ralph Taylor, Sacramento; Mrs. Duncan Robinson, Rio Vista; Kyle Palmer, Hollywood, and Stuart O'Melveny, Los Angeles, were named vice chairmen.

Teague said that council offices would be opened in all principal cities soon.

Former Stanford Athlete Dead

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. —(UP)—Harry (Swede) Carlson, 24, member of Stanford University's Rose Bowl football squad several years ago, was dead today as the result of what police said was a poison suicide following disappointment in love.

He had been under treatment at St. Mary's hospital since Aug. 29 when he became ill of poison which officers said was self-administered. Death occurred late yesterday.

Re-Enacts Escape From Captors

Using her familiarity with country roads near the Meek's home in the Rio Oso peach orchard district, Mrs. Meeks guided officers, including Raymond Cato, head of the state highway patrol, to the hideaway where she was held for three nights and two days before she made her escape.

The trip was undertaken in the hope of uncovering possible new clues which would lead to the capture of the three itinerant peach pickers believed to have been involved in the kidnaping and abortive attempt to collect $15,000 ransom.

Her husband and two married daughters made the trip with Mrs. Meeks and cautioned her against "over-doing." But she appeared to have recovered almost entirely from the threat of pneumonia and the privations and discomfiture she told police she suffered as a result of her abduction.

17 NAVY BOMBERS IN RECORD FLIGHT FROM S. D. TO HAWAII

HONOLULU, Sept. 7.—(UP)—Seventeen navy patrol bombers landed at Pearl Harbor today, completing a record breaking flight from San Diego.

The first plane landed at 4:39 a. m., 7:09 a. m., P.S.T., and the others followed in quick succession.

Unofficial elapsed time of the flight was 17 hours and 31 minutes, breaking by more than two hours and a half the old navy record of 20 hours 30 minutes for the San Diego-Honolulu hop.

Mass Flight

It was pointed out that this was the fastest flight ever made from San Diego to Honolulu. The next fastest was the flight of Richard Archbold, wealthy explorer, who flew his "flying laboratory" from San Diego in 18 hours, 7 minutes, on the first lap of a trans-Pacific exploration trip to Dutch New Guinea.

The flight was made in mass formation throughout the 2570-mile ocean hop.

The first of the bombers to land was the one piloted by Lt. Commander Aaron P. Storrs, flight commander.

Purpose of the flight was to transfer the PBY type bombers and the squadron's 98 officers and men from San Diego to the Honolulu naval air base.

Youth Finishes Four-Year Cruise

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Sept. 7.—(UP)—Dwight Long, University of Washington student who cruised around the world for four years in a 32 foot boat to escape the depression, said he would leave today for New York and soon start the last leg of his journey back home.

Long said he and Wilbur Thomas of Los Angeles would sail the few miles to New York before night. He was uncertain when he would leave the metropolis or how long the voyage to the Pacific Coast would take. He estimated he has covered 34,000 miles since he left home.

100 Stricken At Barbecue

OCEANSIDE, Cal., Sept. 7.—(UP) Health authorities reported today that more than 100 persons stricken with ptomaine poisoning at a barbecue Monday, were convalescing.

None of the cases was said to be serious and the three victims who required hospitalization were apparently recovering, hospital attendants said.

Beans, cooked in galvanized tubs at the annual San Luis Rey barbecue Monday, were believed by health authorities to be the cause of the mass affliction.

Soviet Commisar Is Dismissed

MOSCOW, Sept. 7.—(UP)—Removal of Boris Spiridonovich Stomoniakov, vice commissar of foreign affairs since 1926 and a specialist on the Far East, was announced officially today. No reason was given.

Stomoniakov, who is 56, is a veteran Communist. He is of Bulgarian origin. He joined the Communist party in 1902. In the same year he was expelled from the mining institute, where he was a student, and deported for revolutionary activity.

From 1905 to 1907 he was agent in Belgium for the central committee for furnishing Russian organizations with arms.

Frantically she asked sheriff's offices of two counties to check the highway. At a service station in San Bernardino, 100 miles back along the road, thhey found Ward, hopping mad.

He stepped out to stretch his legs while his wife bought gas, and she drove off without him.

ALLEN ASKS FOR INQUIRY

Reversing his stand of last August 24, Judge James L. Allen, presiding jurist of superior court, today had summoned a special grand jury venire to report at 10 a. m. Monday for investigation into responsibility for an anonymous and assertedly libelous political pamphlet.

"I made the decision to summon the grand jury," Judge Allen told The Register this morning, "because there appears to be the possibility that a conspiracy was involved, making the charge a felony; because as yet nothing has been done to disclose the identity of persons linked with the pamphlet; and because I feel there is an obligation owed the public to clear up the whole matter as speedily as possible."

Refused Plea

It was recalled that last August 24, Judge Allen declined to summon the county grand jury into special session as requested by District Attorney W. F. Menton and Sheriff Logan Jackson.

At that time, Judge Allen said, in part: "In reply thereto, I beg to state that you do not set forth what law has been violated, but from my knowledge of the matter referred to it could only be a violation of the election laws and a criminal libel, both of which are misdemeanors. . . . There is no provision of the law permitting the grand jury to investigate misdemeanors and file indictment therefor . . ."

May Seek Aid

While rumors were rife that it is possible the grand jury may ask a representative of the office of Attorney General U. S. Webb to conduct the examination, there was no official indication of this step. District Attorney Menton declared he stood ready to conduct the investigation before the grand jury, and that all facts and evidence unearthed by him in many days of investigation into the printing and distribution of the alleged libelous pamphlet "Fools Rush In," and another political pamphlet that was seized before distribution had gotten under way. Since his investigation started, Menton has disclosed no facts that would indicate the trend the inquiry is taking or what it might ultimately disclose in the way of names of those involved in the matter.

Seen As Duty

"There is no reason why I should not want to go ahead with this matter before the grand jury," Menton told The Register. "I will be in a position to present all the facts and evidence that my staff has obtained, and will proceed as it is my duty to do so as district attorney of Orange county. I believe that it is the duty of all prosecutors to take this stand regardless of possible developments of any kind, and I am ready and willing to aid."

The pamphlet, which attacked various political candidates and others, resulting in several arrests on charges of violating the election laws and criminal libel, is believed to have involved only offenses that constitute misdemeanors.

Warrant Action

Judge Allen's action today, however, would indicate that the court is convinced not only that

County Offices Close Friday

County and city employes will be among those who will join hundreds of Santa Ana and Orange county residents Friday in the annual observance of California Admission day. All county and city offices will be closed for the occasion, it was announced by officials this morning.

It was pointed out by superior court attaches and others that because the holiday falls on a Friday, there will be no criminal calendar this week in superior court, department No. 1.

Banks and other financial institutions also will be closed, it was said.

EMINENT DOMAIN PROCEEDINGS BEGUN TO SPEED DAM PROJECT

Styled by the Orange county board of supervisors as the first of its kind in connection with the beginning of work on the $7,000,000 Prado dam, a resolution in connection with the eminent domain proceedings under the county's $15,000,000 flood control and water conservation program, was adopted yesterday by the board.

The resolution carries the designation of "the case of the Orange County Flood Control district against one Mary Call Quilici, and others," for the purpose of obtaining title to land that will be used for the new right-of-way of the Santa Fe railroad through that portion of Santa Ana canyon that will be occupied by the dam basin.

Must Post Bond

It instructs officials to deposit a bond of $5502 with superior court to insure payment to Mrs. Quilici or others for the land in question.

Chairman Willard Smith of the board pointed out that it is possible that this may be one of the cases where the services of Charles Babcock, Riverside soil chemist, will be required in the field and in the court before payment is made for the land. Babcock was retained by the county to analyze farm lands and to testify as to their probable value in court.

FRANKLIN WEST ASSURED OF PLACE ON NOVEMBER BALLOT

Franklin G. West, prominent Santa Ana attorney, today stood virtually assured of a race in November with Kenneth E. Morrison, Santa Ana justice of the peace, for the office of superior court judge, department No. 2, and James Davis, local attorney, was conceded to have won the nomination for superior court judge, department No. 1.

This was revealed in totals following the counting of more than two-thirds of the approximate 550 absentee ballots cast in Orange county's record-shattering primary Aug. 30.

Allen Gains 6

The count, according to Deputy Clerk Elmer Schaniel, who is in charge of the two special boards, revealed that Judge James L. Allen, incumbent, and West's competitor, had gained only six votes to make his total 12,338 as against West's 12,505.

On the basis of the incomplete returns from the absentees, Davis will face Judge Homer G. Ames in this particular race. Davis had gained four votes over James B. Tucker, Santa Ana attorney, making his present total 10,582 against 10,213 for Tucker.

Votes gained by each candidate on the basis of today's count were: Davis, 61; Tucker, 57; and Ames, 155; Morrison, 100; West, 84; and Allen 90.

FIRST CONCERT DATE SEPT. 22

Thursday evening, Sept. 22, marks the opening night on an extensive fall and winter concert program by the Federal Music Project's symphony orchestra, the project office today announced. Presented at the high school auditorium, with Leon Eckles on the podium, the orchestra will launch its promising season with a performance (to mention but one feature) of the "Symphony in D Minor" by the celebrated Belgian composer, Cesar Franck.

This symphony was first performed at the Conservatoire of Paris in 1889. It stands as a monument to Franck's genius, being regarded as one of the most majestic and beautiful symphonies ever written.

Its initial hearing, however, caused wide controversy in the music world of that period. Staid supporters of the works of Haydn and Beethoven were shocked by the radical departure exhibited by Franck in writing for the English horn in a symphony, an unheard-of challenge to the traditional laws of symphonic structure. Concert-goers arranged themselves in bitter groups. The composer's adulators proclaimed him "a mystic, dwelling in the Seventh Heaven and hearing, if not the celestial choir, at least the music of the spheres." On the other hand, his detractors (one of whom was Gounod, composer of "Faust") were bitterly caustic in their criticism. It was not until after the composer's death that critics suddenly changed their views and pronounced him a genius far in advance of his period.

The federal orchestra will perform the brilliant score for the first time on its concert programs.

Another feature for the opening night will be a rendition of Lalo's Concerto in D Minor, played by Edwin Geber, principal cellist with the orchestra.

Find Abandoned L. A. Car Here

Believed stolen from a Los Angeles physician, Richard John Wehs, 2301 Bellvue avenue, a car was found this morning, abandoned on Newport Road between the Eddie Martin airport and the Santa Ana Country club. Deputy Sheriffs John Gilmore and James Musick were making a check with Los Angeles police today. The car was out of gasoline and water, the officers learned. A doctor's kit, undisturbed, was found in the car.

President Thanks Newport Men

Mayor Harry Williamson and Harry Welch, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, received a letter of thanks today fom W. H. McIntyre, secretary to President Roosevelt, for two framed pictures presented to President Roosevelt on the occasion of his visit to Southern California in July.

One of the pictures was of Newport bay and the other of the start of a Snowbird race. The letter stated that "The President was delighted to have them."

JOSEPH D. NIMAN CALLED BY DEATH

Joseph D. Niman, 38, a motion picture projectionist, passed away at a Santa Ana hospital yesterday. his home was at 407 Aliso, Newport Heights. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Leora Niman.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 10 a. m. at the Dixon-Grauel chapel in Costa Mesa, with interment in Loma Vista cemetery. He had been ill for the past four weeks. He had lived in the harbor district for the past 12 years.

LEGION ELECTS ON THURSDAY

Election of officers of Santa Ana post 131, American Legion, for the coming year will be held at 8 p. m. tomorrow at the Legion headquarters, it was announced today by Commander Arthur Eklund.

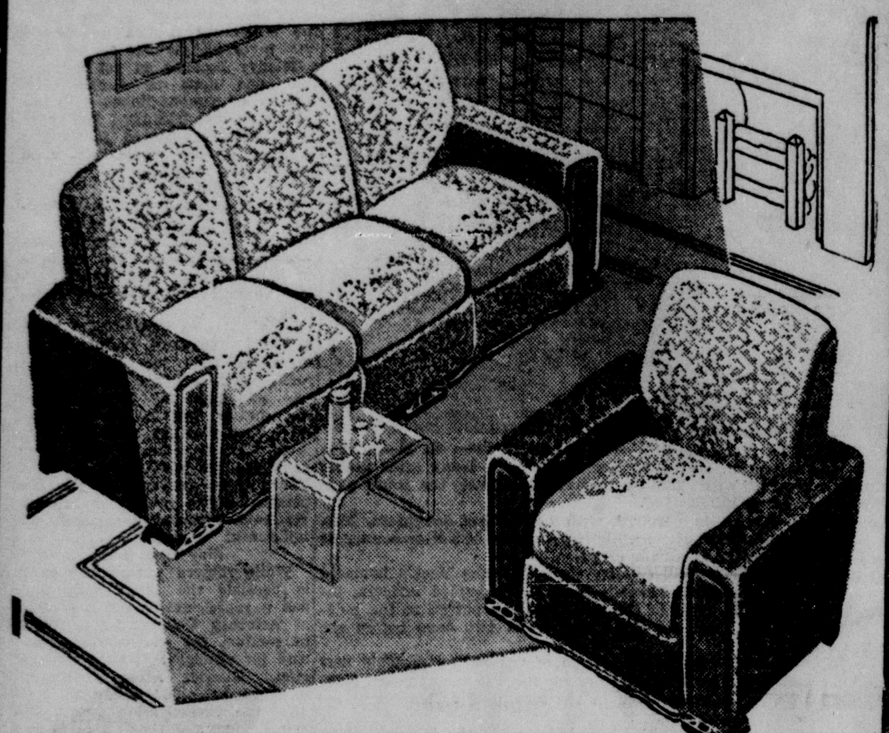

Only two posts in the officer's staff are contested in this year's election. James M. Anderson and Glenn Cave are nominees for the position of commander of the organization and Harold Rasmussen and Eugene Robinson are contesting for adjutant.

Other officers to be elected at the meeting tomorrow night are H. R. Brinkerhof, first vice president; Ralph Mitchell, second vice president; George Richardson, chaplain; and M. K. Lunch, sergeant-at-arms.

Twelve members of the post have been nominated for the five places to be elected on the executive board. They are: Grant Kyle, Andrew Lykke, Walter Sorenson, Hunter Leach, C. M. Featherly, Peter Van Dam, Orson Hunter, Preston Turner, Harry Pickard, Henry Marrs, Charles Leimer and Charles Neer.

Entertainment by the Legion Auxiliary quartet and yearly reports of committees will be included in the program tomorrow night.

SOFTBALL CHAMPS AWARDED TROPHIES

With Dale Griggs, city parks superintendent batting for Mayor Fred Rowland, Santa Ana's Playground league softball champions were presented with awards following last night's four Junior league exhibition games at the Municipal Bowl.

Gold and silver balls were awarded to Al's Lock and Key shop, senior champions of Orange county and to the Famous Department storejuniors. The city champion-Vandermast team also was honored.

Coaches of the various teams were awarded the very latest in softball shoes by Mr. Payes, manager of the Famous store. In the vote for the sportsmanship cup, three junior teams and two senior teams tied for first place. The result made it necessary to wait until next year to award the trophy permanently.

The Famous team, coached by Wilma Potter, won the City Junior league championship and also the Orange county junior championship. The players of the Famous team are Wilma Potter, Captain Barney Swearingen, Tom Renfro, Arnold Murillo, Johny Cook, Jimmy Cook, Darrell Wilson, Jack Woodsmall, Irving Davis, Don Deakins, Spanky Duckett, Sammy Palmer, Benny Murillo and Bill Saxton.

Director Faber Bray was presented with a silver baseball for his efforts in directing both of the Playground leagues.

Takes Poison By Mistake In Drink

Ordering a soft drink in Scottie's Malt Shop at the corner of Chapman avenue and Orange street, Orange, shortly after 5:30 p. m. last night, Miss Gertrude Lowe, 19, of 459 South Orange street, dropped a bichloride of mercury tablet in a half glass of water, drinking the poison after finishing the soft drink.

She was given first aid treatment by Keller E. Watson, jr., who was called from his drug store across the street. Miss Lowe was taken to the Orange County hospital where she was said to be recovering.

Miss Lowe is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lowe and the family came to Orange from Arkansas about six months ago. She is said to have been despondent over ill health and the tablets were prescribed by a Santa Ana physician as an antiseptic wash. She told V. G. Wolfe, Orange police officer that she took the tablet by mistake.

Police News

A $1 fine was assessed by City Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday against Thomas W. Stephens, Huntington Beach, who was charged with failure to stop for a pedestrian walking across the street in a pedestrian zone. Officers George Boyd and Chet Gross reported they were stopped in a police car at the zone when Stephens drove around them and through the zone September 3.

On report that a man was "looking for trouble" in front of La Hacienda cafe, 2026 West Fifth, last night, Officers J. W. Foster and Roy Hartley investigated and arrested Refugio Lopez, 53, Wintersburg, on a drunk charge. They booked him at county jail and impounded his car.

Charged with committing a morals offense against a local 21-year-old boy, Grover Secrest, 52, Etna, Calif., today pleaded not guilty before City Judge J. G. Mitchell and was ordered to trial September 21 at 10 a. m. The boy said he had given Secrest a room for the night prior to the alleged offense. Atty. John Clarkson is defense counsel for Secrest.

Charged with violating a Santa Ana ordinance by spraying an orchard without license, D. E. Magill, 51, Ball road, half a mile east of Magnolia avenue, Anaheim, was arrested yesterday afternoon and fined $25 in city court.

Several boys who were reported to be shooting out street lights at Main and McFadden streets yesterday afternoon could not be located when Officers Charles Neer and Daniel M. Jones sought them.

A bicycle found by George H. "Jack" Boardmar, manager of the Grand Central Market, back of the market, was returned to the owner, Sam Barker, 130 Roe Drive, yesterday, Officer B. A. Hershey reported. One wheel had been removed.

Police were called to Fifth and Sycamore streets yesterday afternoon when an asserted argument followed a collision of cars driven by Gregg Kass, resident of Iowa, and Paul Renner, Costa Mesa. The officers advised the motorists.

Following an investigation by cars to the small claims court for settlement.

Because a local 19-year-old youth assertedly took a car from the H. C. "Heck" Collins garage, 113 North Sycamore street, on trial yesterday afternoon and failed to return it when he agreed to do so, Officers L. H. Nicholson and Richard M. Gradley were called upon to retrieve the vehicle. They did. The youth was warned against repeating the offense.

Beauty Mart Will Be Remodeled

The Beaute Mart, 927 1-2 South Main street will be closed until Monday morning during which time repairs and remodeling will completely renovate the establishment, it was announced today by Miss Ada Holloway, owner.

Miss Holloway and her assistant, Miss Dorothy Neilsen will make a motor trip through the north during the remodeling period.

COUNTY BANKERS TO MEET IN FULLERTON

More than 50 members and guests of the Orange county chapter of the American Institute of Banking will attend the first meeting of the year at a board of governor's meeting at the Bit O' Scandia restaurant, Fullerton, at 6:30 p. m. today, according to Tony Kneip, president.

Highlight of the meeting will be an address by Harry R. Smith, of San Francisco, second vice-president of the national association, who will fly to Burbank today to attend the meeting. Kneip and Harold West, second vice-president of the local organization, will meet Smith at the airport.

Instructors in three courses will be introduced at the meeting. They are: H. C. Cameron, justice-of-peace elect of Santa Ana, lecturer on commercial law; Harry Smith, manager of the Bank of America at Fullerton, lecturer on analysis of financial statements; and Burdette Stampley, of the speech clinic at the University of Southern California, lecturer on public speaking.

Committee heads who will be presented at the meeting will include Mrs. Marjorie Bush, of the First National Bank at Santa Ana, education committee; Harold West, Bank of America, Fullerton, consul committee; W. D. Nunlist, Security First National bank, Fullerton, membership committee; and J. E. Webber, Security First National bank, Santa Ana, picnic committee.

COUNCIL NOTES
One hundred eighty-nine tax delinquent lots in the city were accepted officially by city council last night. They're for sale, now.

Request of R. Affleck, 617 East Sixth, to buy the lot adjacent to his property for $200 was accepted by city council last night. Affleck wants to remove a tile building on the lot. He says it is a "disgrace" to the neighbodhood. Affleck must pay back taxes to acquire the lot.

Forest and Edgar Anthony, Santa Ana, want to conduct a retail and wholesale ornamental rock business on the lot north of 710 South Main. City council granted them the privilege last night.

DEATHS
GORDON — In Santa Ana, Sept. 6, 1938, Addie Gordon, aged 79 years. Mrs. Gordon is survived by her husband, S. W. Gordon; one son, F. S. Gordon, of Santa Ana; one sister, Martha Gordon, of Bolivar, Mo.; three nephews, Charles Morris, William Morris, of Santa Ana, and Robert Morris, of Bakersfield. Four nieces, Mrs. Ernest Layton, Mrs. Nora Allen, Mrs. Katherine Hurd, of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Bay Webster, of Ventura. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. from Smith and Tuthill's chapel, Rev. Harry Owings officiating.

(Funeral Notice)
BAKER—Funeral services for James A. Baker, El Modena, who passed away Monday, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the El Modena Friends church with the Rev. J. S. Sorenson, pastor, conducting the rites. Shannon's funeral establishment is in charge.

NIMAN—At a Santa Ana hospital September 6, Joseph D. Niman, 38, of 407 Aliso, Newport Heights. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Leora Niman. Funeral services Friday at 10 a. m. at the Dixon-Grauel chapel in Costa Mesa, with interment in Loma Vista cemetery.

Products Of State To Be Featured

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—Believen the recognition it justly deserves, ing that Admission Day is not given the recognition it justly deserves the chain stores of California are this year going to endeavor to make Californians more conscious of the fine heritage that is theirs, by focusing public attention on the products of the state. California's wide range of food and manufactured products will be featured in every possible manner in chain stores, ranging from food outlets, to apparel, shoes, drug, candy, auto accessory and lumber firms.

It will be a tribute to the state's manufacturing and agriculture industries, proponents of the idea claim.

Chain stores will be dressed up to greet this occasion and the buying public will be given pause to think what patronage of their state's products means towards the stability of industry and agriculture.

$230,000 On Hand To Move Railroad

Orange county today stands in readiness to take care of all projected construction jobs, and has approximately $230,000 available in a $895,421.76 "active fund" to pay for rebuilding a section of the Santa Fe railroad around the site of the Prado basin, a project that now is under way in Santa Ana canyon.

This was part of the information revealed at the regular session of the Orange county board of supervisors in a monthly report that was submitted by County Treasurer Terry E. Stephenson.

His financial survey, which was received and approved, showed that there now is $3,871,621.76 in the county treasury, $2,976,200 of which is on deposit and drawing one per cent interest from nine banking institutions in the city and county. It was pointed out that the amount on deposit constitutes the county's "inactive total."

RESIDENT HERE 28 YEARS IS CALLED

Mrs. Addie Gordon, 79, of 943 West Pine street, a resident of Santa Ana for the past 28 years, died at her home yesterday after an illness lasting several months. She was born in Bolivar, Missouri, and was a member of the Baptist church of Santa Ana.

She is survived by her husband, S. W. Gordon; one son, F. S. Gordon, of Santa Ana; one sister, Martha Gordon, of Bolivar, Mo.; three nephews, Charles and William Morris, of Santa Ana, and Robert Morris, of Bakersfield; and four nieces, Mrs. Ernest Layton, Mrs. Nova Allen, and Mrs. Katherine Hurd, all of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Bay Webster, of Ventura.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorow at Smith and Tuthill funeral chapel with the Rev. Harry Owings officiating. Interment will be made at Fairhaven cemetery.

Robert Louis Stevenson willed his birthday, Nov. 13, to a little girl because her own fell on Christmas.

400 Expected At School In Tustin

TUSTIN, Sept. 7.—A total enrollment of approximately 400 students is expected at the elementary school, according to Superintendent E. E. Harwood. Busses will cover the same routes as last year and adjustments for new students will be made later. Busses will start operating on September 12, when school opens for the fall term.

Few changes have been made in the faculty. Mrs. Alice Galord will replace Mrs. Effie Matthews, who is on leave of absence this year. Mrs. Marie Daugherty will teach chorus, dividing her time between the grammar school and Tustin union high school, as will George Gergen, instrumental music instructor.

CHARLOTTE SHELBY BACK IN COURT IN $50,000 ACTION

Another legal battle between Mrs. Charlotte Shelby, mother of Mary Miles Minter, former motion picture actress, and another daughter, Mrs. Margaret Fillmore, got under way in superior court in Los Angeles yesterday.

The trial is the third of a series in the past year. The present action involves $50,000 worth of furnishings, while the previous suits were concerned with possession of certain money and a Laguna Beach home and articles of furniture.

Each asks $5000 damages and return of the articles. Mrs. Fillmore set forth her claims in a cross complaint. Mrs. Shelby was granted a life tenancy in the Laguna Beach home in a previous court decision, with the property eventually reverting to Mrs. Fillmore.

Mrs. Fillmore was a witness yesterday, called by her mother's attorney, Clyde F. Murphy. She gave testimony concerning articles of glassware, imported furniture and articles of art in the Laguna home.

Trouble with her mother began in 1936 when "Mrs. Shelby instituted proceedings against me," Mrs. Fillmore said. She referred to her arrest and subsequent release on an insanity warrant signed by her mother, whom she constantly called "Mrs. Shelby."

"I was not able to return to the home until September 23, 1937, when I found many articles missing," she continued.

Court records revealed that on the night of her return, a jury was deliberating on a suit brought against her mother by Mrs. Fillmore in which she obtained judgment of $22,000.

Students Signed At Laguna Beach

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 7.—A call was issued today by local school authorities notifying prospective students for the forthcoming high school semester to register not later than Friday at the school office, to make out their program of elective studies. School reopens on Monday, September 12.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED
LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 7.—Winifred Witton of Arroyo road, is the happy recipient of the American Legion auxiliary scholarship, awarded her when, with her mother, Mrs. M. E. Witton, and grandmother, Mrs. Anna Roeblad, she was special guest of the auxiliary. Prior to the presentation, Mrs. Carl E. Benson, president of the Laguna Beach Parent-Teacher association, made a brief address on the "Benefits of a Scholarship."

Jubilee Lodge, F. and A. M., Second degree, September 8th. Owing to conflicting dates of talent, the De Molay party has been postponed until October. Watch for announcement.

HOPES FOR REBEL VICTORY IN SPAIN FADE AS BREAK LOOMS

LONDON, Sept. 7.—(UP)—Indirect reports filtering out of Spain hinted today at mounting signs of a break in the two-year-old civil war and revived speculation on re-establishment of the monarchy under Prince Juan De Bourbon-Battenberg, son of the exiled King Alfonso.

Authoritative British sources in close touch with Spain disclosed that advices, received via Portugal, reported differences of opinion developing as to leadership in insurgent territory and told of waning hope for an early or decisive triumph by the armies of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Hostility Lessens

Confirmation of the advices was impossible, but it was said that the differences in regard to leadership did not necessarily mean that the frequently reported opposition to Franco had become serious.

Advices indicated that enthusiasm among the people for continuation of the war was less vigorous. Indications were not lacking, it was asserted, that there was fraternization between Nationalist and Loyalist troops in certain front line sectors.

The conclusion which well informed circles here sought to draw was that the desire for an end to the conflict was growing and that it might soon offer some hope of mediation. Franco, who now is in the strongest position, has been known to look favorably on re-establishment of the monarchy if peace can be restored.

May Welcome King

With the death in America yesterday of Count Covadonga, disinherited heir to the fallen Spanish throne, there would be no question that Prince Juan, third son of Alfonso, would be the choice for the crown. Officials of Nationalist Spain have not rejected the idea of a referendum to welcome back a king, under strictly limited powers, after the war ends.

Prince Juan is 25 years old. His wife is the former Princess Maria Mercedes of Bourbon-Sicily.

Speculation on a monarchy, however, can never advance far until the war ends, it was emphasized here, and there has been little hope recently that Franco could win before next year.

HEARINGS WAIVED IN MORALS CASES

Two Santa Ana men charged with felony morals offenses against local girls waived preliminary hearings today in Judge Kenneth E. Morrison's Santa Ana justice court and were bound over to superior court for trial.

Taye Shaddy, 22, Oklahoma laborer who came here 18 months ago and has been a resident of 942 West Highland, is charged with committing offenses against a 16-year-old girl. He was arrested after the girl's mother learned the girl was seriously ill and needed hospital treatment. Shaddy assertedly admitted to police he first associated with the girl in October, 1937.

James W. Rea, 48, 1067 East Fourth, the second man under arrest, assertedly committed the offense against a 12-year-old Mexican girl. Rea assertedly confessed he committed the offense charged while the girl was quoted as saying she had been attacked and mistreated by Rea. Bail for Shaddy was fixed at $5000, while Rea's bail was set at $3000. Neither man made bail.

France Speeds Defense Plans

among those called to the colors. They were detailed to receive from three to four weeks of special training in the forts.

These steps were decided upon in answer to Germany's gigantic army maneuvers and the concentration of men and materials on the French frontier.

If the Czechoslovak minority situation is ended peaceably, it was learned, the government intends to cancel all precautionary moves at once. But it was understood that if the Czechoslovak crisis took a grave turn, or Germany resorted to France's action by sending more men to the frontier there would be a new move by France—the calling up of one class of army reserves, totaling 200,000 men. This would be an extremely grave step and would mark the launching of mobilization machinery.

How determined the government was to get its machinery on a smooth running basis was shown in an announcement in today's official journal that the Port of Marseilles, the gateway to North Africa had been requisitioned, effective tomorrow.

officers escorted 75 employes into Hales—a half block up Market street from the Emporium.

The Retailers' Council, in which all the affected stores are members, announced the stores "are open and will stay open."

Good Humor

The council said nearly every department in the stores was "at least partially manned."

Itinerant ice cream vendors did a rushing business at the picket lines.

Good humor prevailed in most lines except when someone entered or left a store. Then there would be a crescendo of booing and jeering.

Only a single arrest was reported within the first few hours of the strike. Police took into custody a young woman who refused to move on. She said she was not a striker but merely had stopped to talk to a girl in a picket line.

More than 450 pickets paraded up and down the sidewalk in front of the Emporium. Police split the line into three sections to leave clearance for the store's entrances.

The union's decision to strike was taken at a mass meeting in Civic auditorium in face of urgent pleas telegraphed from Mayor Angelo Rossi from Oregon to delay action until tomorrow.

POPE IN ATTACK ON ANTI-JEW MEASURE

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Sept. 7.—(UP)—The Pope deplored "exaggerated nationalism" again today in a speech to 400 teachers of the Catholic Action organization of laymen.

He deplored international and national press comment on the recent Fascist credo.

"This comment is a big, grave error which reaches the first steps of hitting at Catholic doctrine," he said.

Not Racialism

The Pope explained it is erroneous to say he recently discussed racialism, which resulted in anti-Jewish measures.

"We spoke only about exaggerated nationalism, which does not unite people but pitches them one against another," he declared. Speaking firmly, he continued:

"We do not want to make it a question of racialism or not racialism. It recently was said that the Pope had talked much of racialism when instead he spoke only of exaggerated nationalism."

New Czech Crisis Is Seen

many's vast labor corps today as an integral part of the defense of the Reich's soil, standing behind the army for security.

Hitler addressed 30,000 men and 2000 women of the labor dorps who paraded before him on the Zeppelin field.

"You are fighting for the rebuilding of Germany but you also are fighting for the defense of the Reich," he said. "The spade creates new ground and makes safe the old soil of the Reich. You are working everywhere, north, south, east and west, for the security of the Reich."

Greets Austrians

Turning to the contingent from Austria, Hitler said:

"I greet the men of work from my own homeland. You not only symbolically but in reality have come into the great front of the new German community. For this community has no more beautiful symbol than the spade."

Diplomats realized that these men were a first reserve for the 1,000,000 or more soldiers now on maneuvers. The men of the labor service carried heavy shovels in the parade. Officials denied that these men, conscripted to serve six months or more in the labor corps as a preliminary to two years of army service, were equipped with rifles.

Holds Parley

Behind the scenes, Hitler was conferring with Konrad Henlein, leader of the German minority in Czechoslovakia, and with his own advisers as to his course in the minority crisis.

It was believed that Hitler might make a guarded pronouncement on foreign affairs late today at a reception to the diplomatic corps which includes Hugh R. Wilson, American ambassador, and Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador.

Not Acceptable

Even in advance of publication, well informed sources here asserted that the new "last word" minority offer of the Czechoslovak government was inacceptable. More concessions must be made, it was said.

It appeared here that the big question, in German minds, was the length to which Great Britain would go in pressing the Czechoslovak government to make "satisfactory" concessions.

Navy Bombers In Record Flight

Flying well ahead of schedule, the planes first sighted Oahu Island guide lights at 4:10 a.m. Honolulu time. A few minutes later the planes circled over Honolulu, still in formation, then landed on Pearl Harbor.

Storrs said his own plane functioned perfectly throughout the trip and as far as he knew none of the others had any difficulty.

"We flew between 7000 and 10,000 feet last night because there was a beautiful moon," Storrs said. "Below us there probably were rain squalls, but up where we were it was like broad daylight."

Storrs revealed the squadron sighted all five of the navy vessels which were stationed at 500 mile intervals along the route to give assistance to the flight. This indicated the squadron never got off its charted course.

Former Sen. Tasker L. Oddie was unopposed for the Republican Senatorial nomination. Rep. J. G. Scrugham had no opposition for re-nomination on the Democratic ticket and Harry Stewart was unopposed for the Congressional nomination on the Republican ballot.

The most bitterly contested race was that in which three candidates sought the Democratic nomination for governor. Harley A. Harmon and E. P. Carville were separated by only a few votes after almost half of the precincts had reported, indicating that the outcome probably would be determined only after the entire vote had been tabulated. The third Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Charles L. Richards, was far behind.

In 215 precincts Carville had 10,737 votes, Harmon 8,276 and Richards 2,006.

John M. Fulton led Sam Durkee for the Republican nomination for governor. The vote was close, however, in first returns.

It was reported that McCarran had received support from Republicans who registered as Democrats in the hope of preventing the Democrats from nominating a strict adherent of the New Deal.

Although South Carolina damaged Roosevelt political prestige and a reverse in Maryland would do further damage, there are many persons who believe Mr. Roosevelt has adopted sound strategy in taking the offensive on a showdown with conservative Democrats. It would have come soon, in any event.

The forecast of Tydings' renomination is based primarily on two factors of weakness in Lewis' campaign:

1.—The enthusiasm and individual brilliance of many of his addresses have not offset lack of a hard hitting, state-wide organization.

Dislike CIO

2.—Rural Maryland antipathy to the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Renomination of Tydings would maintain the unbroken series of triumphs of those Democratic Senators who opposed judiciary reorganization last year. Terms of nine of those men expired this year. Five of them, so far, have come up for renomination and each has won easily. The latest recruit to the happy company is Sen. Pat McCarran, D., Nev., remoniated yesterday over two avowed New Dealers.

The President did not call for McCarran's defeat nor did he endorse either of his opponents when he traveled through Nevada in July. Sens. Frederick Van Nuys, D., Ind., Bennett Clark, D., Mo., and Guy M. Gillette, D., Ia., likewise were renominated without open White House opposition although the state machine attempted to beat Van Nuys and some of Mr. Roosevelt's closest associates fired some ineffective slavos at Gillette.

Questioned In Philadelphia Prison Deaths

the finding of 18 pounds of the rare ambergris, by Alex and John Pophoff, two young San Pedro fishermen. He became interested.

On August 30, Bob availed himself of a chance to go to Corona Del Mar for a swim. Later he took a run up the beach to look for ambergris. Having checked up in an encyclopedia a detailed description of what he was looking for, it was not surprising that when he stumbled upon a 10 pound, solid, fatty, dull gray substance that he picked it up and examined it. Bringing it home he put it to some chemical tests, being a chemistry student. He was satisfied that he had found ambergris. During the next few days he returned to Corona Del Mar and spent hours combing the beach for more of the varigated, soapy substance. Several more pieces were found among the rocks.

Tests Made

Not satisfied with his own diagnosis, Clark sent a sample to a Los Angeles chemist who today verified that what he had found was ambergris. The chemist, Ed Dugan, stated that this find and the one made by the San Pedro youths is the first made in several years in Southern California waters.

Ambergris itself is nothing more than the scab formed on the intestines of a sick whale. It possesses a peculiar earthy odor and is found floating upon the sea, or on the seacoast. Most ambergris comes from the Bahamas Islands. It is found on the Atlantic ocean, on the coasts of Brazil, Madagascar and the Molucca islands, but is rarely found on the Pacific coast.

The use of ambergris is now entirely confined to perfumery. In minute quantities its alcoholic solution is much used for giving a "floral" fragrance to bouquets, washes and other preparations of the perfumer. It occupies an important place in the perfumery of the East and it is also used in pharmacy and as a flavoring material in cookery. The high price it commands makes it peculiarly liable to adulteration.

Italian Ship Burns At Sea

LONDON, Sept. 7.—(UP)—Lloyds reported today that the Italian Prince, 3478 ton liner of the Prince Line Ltd., had been abandoned afire 31 miles south and 21 miles west of Finisterre, France.

Eleven passengers and all 34 members of the crew were rescued. One passenger was reported missing. The liner was en route to Alexandretta from London.

cause he married a commoner, died yesterday after an early morning auto accident.

Miss Gaydon was the driver of the auto in which she and the count were returning from a tour of night clubs. Blinded by the glare of a truck's lights, she said, she swerved the car and lost control of it. The auto crashed into a light pole.

Dread Disease

The count was frail from childhoodand throughout his life had been given all possible medical care because he suffered from the dread inherited disease of haemophilia which subjected him to the ever present threat of bleeding to death.

But the malady which curtailed his activities all his life did not cause his death. He died from shock and heart failure, about nine hours after he was hurt. He had numerous wounds and probably a skull fracture, his doctor said.

Married Cuban

The count had spent the last three years in America and Cuba after the estrangements between him and his father which resulted from the count's marriage to his first commoner wife, Edelmira Sampedro, a pretty Cuban, in 1933.

That marriage ended in divorce in 1937 and was followed by a marriage to a second beautiful Cuban commoner, Marta Rocafort, the same year. A divorce terminated the second marriage last winter.

A bottle of water, standing outside a California house in 1931, focused the sun's rays with such intensity that the wooden wall was ignited.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS ARE BACK FROM CONVENTION AND FAIR

Twenty-eight 4-H Club members and leaders from Orange county returned this week from the 23rd annual 4-H Club convention and visit to the state fair at Sacramento.

The program of the convention, which was held on the campus of the College of Agriculture at Davis, included educational demonstration on such practical subjects as plant breeding, livestock, soiss, pest control, poultry, general science and home economics.

The following Senior club members from Orange county were appointed to assist in the convention organization: William Sticks of Buena Park, David Fairbairn of Olive, Harry Hoskins and Ruth Davis of Anaheim.

On Friday the entire delegation of more than 1000 went by special train to Sacramento, where the group made a very impressive sight marching in their green and white uniforms before the grandstand, and where they were welcomed by Governor Frank F. Merriam and Fair officials. The afternoon was spent in viewing the many fine exhibits including the beautiful entry from Orange county which was attended by Ray Starbuck of Fullerton. In the evening the group was admitted o the grandstand to view the display of fireworks and stage entertainment.

The Orange county delegation returned home by way of San Francisco where a visit was made to the San Francisco Civic Center. The entire trip of four days was very enjoyable and educational to those attending.

The financial arrangements for the trip were made largely by the 4-H clubs of the county. Financial assistance was received for some delegates from the Orange County Farm Bureau, the Santa Ana Kiwanis club and the Costa Mesa-Newport Lions club.

Those attending were leaders J. J. Beavers of Stanton, Mrs. O. J. Linnartz of Olive, and Hollis Lawson, Brea; Sam Bendlin, William Beach and Leroy Johnston, Costa Mesa; Bob Kettler and Joe Lieb, Katella; Charles Doutt, La Habra; Claud Lewellen and Otis Feemster, Olive; Clyde Hoskins, Ed Hill and Lester Roedick, Placentia; Dale Heil, Midway City; Calvine Pebley, Stanton; David Flaherty, Santa Ana; Morris Carroll, Anaheim; Barbara Freese, Betty Benson, Anaheim; Yvonne Linnartz, Olive; Marie Farnsworth and Margaret Griset, Tustin.

RATTLERS ON STRIKE

BERKELEY, Cal.— (UP)—Rattlesnakes, brought here for the annual convention of the American Society of Ichythyologists and Herpetologists, went on a hunger strike, presumably because they did not like the name of the society. To keep them from dying before the society closed its discussion of them, they were forcibly fed by thrusting a syringe, filled with hamburger, eggs and milk, down their throats.

1937 NUT CROP ENTIRELY SOLD

The walnut control board and the California Walnut Growers association have sold out their entire 1937 walnut supplies. This was the report given to local walnut growers at the Walnut Pre-harvest institute held last week at Santa Ana under the auspices of the agricultural extension service and the farm bureau walnut department.

Last year's biggest crop of some 57,000 tons has been disposed of and the shelf is practically clear for the 1938 crop, it was stated by A. W. Christie, of the California Walnut Growers association. Recently, 7000 bags were shipped to Brazil by the control board, he said, into the land that ships us large quantities of Brazil nuts.

The crop estimates for this year are growing bigger as time approaches for harvesting. The latest estimates collected from all districts in California indicate a 44,000 ton crop, compared to last year's 57,000 tons.

Orange county's walnut crop is probably the shortest of any district, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg. Growers and packing house men estimate about 60 per cent of last year's 6000 tons for the county, or 3600 tons for this season.

Ventura county looks for 80 per cent of last year's record, and northern California districts report about 40 per cent greater than last year. Oregon, it is said, will have about three times last year's small crop.

The walnut control board is holding a hearing in San Francisco this week to secure information from the growers and the trade upon which to determine the saleable and surplus percentages for this season's crop.

Last year 35 per cent of the crop was diverted to surplus channels and 65 per cent sold to regular trade. It is anticipated that this year's surplus will be somewhat less due to the smaller crop.

Wins Thompson Trophy Race

Col. Roscoe Turner, veteran flier, after winning the Thompson Trophy Race, premier event of the National Air Races in Cleveland. He not only disproved the adage, "champions never come back," by being first man to win the race for the second time, but pocketed $22,000 and a new speed record for the 300 miles event, 283.41 miles an hour.—Acme Telephoto.

DRUNK DRIVERS PAY CITY COURT FINES

Two drunk drivers and two speeders were among those who pleaded guilty before City Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday. Ira L. Grey, Santa Ana, whose car was involved in an auto accident in the 2200-block of South Main, was sent to jail for a 75-day term for drunk driving. He had the alternative of paying a $150 fine. Jerry Riley, Huntington Beach, was fined $150 after pleading guilty to the same offense.

Thornton Smith, Riverside, and Claude Ford, Costa Mesa, paid $8 and $6, respectively, for speeding. George Drysdale, Route 1, Costa Mesa, and Matias Contreras, Santa Ana, were fined $5 each for boulevard stop violations.

MILK ACTION ORDERED

TORONTO.—(UP)—An order-in-council announcing that compulsory pasteurization of milk will become effective in all cities, towns and suburbs in Ontario on Oct. 1, and throughout the rest of the province by Dec. 31, has been passed by the Ontario government.

Asks Annulment Of Marriage

One petition for annulment of marriage and a suit for divorce were among cases that were filed yesterday afternoon in the office of County Clerk Basil J. Smith. The annulment was asked by Mrs. Kathleen N. Brown, who was married to Webster R. Brown, a sailor, in Santa Ana on Dec. 20, 1937. She charged misrepresentations on the part of the defendant prior to the ceremony.

The divorce was asked by Mrs. Florence O. Batchelder from Albert C. Batchelder. She says they were wed Sept. 5, 1925, and separated Aug. 3, 1938. Asserting cruel and inhuman treatment on the part of her erstwhile mate, she pleaded for the custody of three children in addition to the decree.

Board Will Name New Planner

Recommendation for the appointment of a person to take the place of Louis W. Briggs of Newport Beach, on the Orange county planning commission will be made by Supervisor N. E. West of the Fifth district at the next meeting of the Orange county board of supervisors.

This was the informal announcement of West yesterday at the regular meeting of the board following the receipt of a communication from Jules W. Markel, secretary of the planning commission, telling of the resignation of Briggs.

Briggs resigned because of the pressure of private business affairs, according to Markel's letter, and because of the vacancy's occurrence in the Fifth district, Supervisor West has the privilege of recommending his successor.

Orange County Is Winner At Fair

Orange county so far has garnered prizes totaling $790 as the result of agricultural exhibits at the California state fair in Sacramento.

This was the announcement yesterday of D. W. Tubbs, Orange county agricultural commissioner at the meeting of the board of supervisors. He had just received a telegram from Ray Starbuck, local deputy commissioner in attendance at the fair, stating that the county had won a $200 first prize on a citrus exhibit; a first prize of $10 on a fancy box of Valencia oranges; and a $75 prize for a honey exhibit.

Tubbs pointed out that the county also had been awarded $250 for having been among the 10 counties presenting the 10 best exhibits at the fair.

SNAKES DIE IN WARGAMES

SALINAS, Cal.—(UP)—"Casualties" during war games recently executed on the Gigling military reservation west of here are believed to have set an all time high. Three thousand troops participated in the maneuvers and at the close more than 500 dead rattlesnakes were counted on the field of battle. The highest number of rattlers killed in one day was 17.

Bids On Bridge Are Rejected

Because the formal advertisement specified employment of Orange county labor on the projects, all bids for contracts to construct a $6900 Rose drive bridge over the Santa Ana river about half a mile south of Olinda, and building of a $5600 concrete dip in the Santiago creek bed on Cambridge drive near Orange, yesterday was rejected by the Orange county board of supervisors.

The board was compelled to take action after having received a ruling from the office of Attorney General U. S. Webb stating that where state funds were used, the county was powerless to state the type of labor that would be utilized.

The projects, made necessary as the result of the last March 3 flood, will be readvertised this week by the board. It was pointed out by A. A. Beard, county highway engineer, that the work and materials will be paid for from funds granted the county by the state emergency allotments, which totaled $12,000 locally.

Insect And Weed Project Planned

Under provisions of a resolution adopted at yesterday's session of the county board of supervisors, 70 men in the near future will begin work on a nine-month $51,916 WPA project for the eradication of animal and insect pests and noxious weeds in various parts of the county.

Details of the project, which provides for the expenditure of $42,368 in federal funds and $9548 by the sponsor, today will be certified to WPA officials in Washington, D. C., for approval. The matter gained the approbation of Los Angeles WPA officials last June.

BOARD DEFEATS PLUMBING ACT

Threatening time and again to inject fireworks into yesterday afternoon's regular session of the Orange county board of supervisors, the plumbing ordinance and amendment bugaboo rose to harrass the legislators for more than an hour, and then the proposed amendment went down to defeat by a vote of three to two.

The amendment, tacitly opposed by the Orange county farm bureau because it threatened to include more unincorporated areas into the territory already covered by the county plumbing, building and electrical code, would have placed the Fourth district under provisions of the measure which already has been in force in districts two, three and five.

Most of yesterday's discussion took place between Chairman Willard Smith of Orange, hotly opposing the amendment, and Supervisor N. E. West of the Fifth district, who contended the ordinance was unconstitutional on the grounds it gave no equitable distribution of effects of the law in the county areas and "it should either affect all districts or none." Chairman Smith fought passage of the amendment on the grounds that "the great majority of people in my district want none of such an ordinance, and I think the percentage of opposition is the same in all the other districts."

C. J. Marks, executive secretary of the farm bureau, explained the action of the bureau's board of directors, while Charles F. Carlson, representing the building industries in the county, urged supervisors to enact the measure as a move toward sanitation and standardization of building in the county areas. The supervisors took no action on the ordinance itself, merely rejecting the amendment, and the law still stands for three districts. Supervisors Harry Riley and West were the two legislators who voted "yes," the others voicing 'nays."

MUSIC TO FEATURE BREAKFAST MEETING

Music and dancing will feature the entertainment at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club at 7:30 a. m. tomorrow at the Main cafeteria, it was announced today by Program Chairman Hunter Leach.

Included on the program will be nine - year - old Barbara Boose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Boose, of 1551 East 17th street, who will play the piano. She recently won a prize in the Allied Arts Festival of Los Angeles, sponsored by the chamber of commerce. Barbara is a pupil of Miss Leonora Tompkins.

Dancing on the program will be furnished by "The Three Toppers," Gene and Margie Robbins of Long Beach and Tommy Sutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sutton, of 815 South Main street. Hale Barker will preside at the meeting.

Following the bite of a rabid animal, symptoms of rabies sometimes may not set in for two months.

AUTOMOTIVE NEWS

CARE URGED AS SCHOOLS OPEN

School bells calling children back to classrooms for the fall term also sound an appeal to motorists for safe and slow driving near schools.

Throngs of youngsters at crossings near schools before and after hours place upon motorists an extra responsibility of careful driving in such areas, cautions the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Many thousands of little tots will experience the great adventure of going to and from school alone and for the first time, drivers also are reminded:

Law Cited

State law limits speed to 15 miles per hour when passing a school building or grounds during recess or while children are going to or leaving school, or while playgrounds are in use, a club statement points out.

Autoists are urged to cooperate with school safety committeemen in their work of safeguarding schoolmates from traffic dangers. These student officers are stationed at curbs to control the movement of children across the streets. They do not direct traffic, but the alert watchfulness and help of motorists is necessary to aid them in directing youngsters across pedestrian zones with the "Stop" sign at signalized intersections or at non-signalized corners. It is the autoist's obligation not to turn right or drive through when signals or the committeemen indicate that children are about to cross the intersection.

Motorists' Duty

Approximately 20,000 school safety committeemen will be on duty at street crossings or on school grounds when the fall term is under way. The automobile club safety department provides them with arm badges or pin insignia and a membership book containing the safety pledge and safety rules for children.

Children follow traffic dules and it is the motorists' duty to play fair with the youngsters, suggests the safety bureau, which issues 176,000 school safety posters, with suggested lesson plans attached, to all elementary, junior and senior high school classrooms, and 132,000 school safety bulletins to all elementary classrooms, during the school year. Over half a million pupils, from kindergarden through high school, are regularly affested by the program.

The value of this intensive safety activity in and with the active participation of the schools is attested by the saving of many young lives, notes the automobile club. Traffic accident records in Southern California show a constantly low percentage of fatalities and casualties among children of school age as contrasted with the year by year jumps in the general traffic toll.

Which Is Your Pick?

Do you prefer the one at the left—or the one at the right? We mean, of course, the new Goodyear Double Eagle Airwheels. Both are built with Rayotwist, Goodyear's new silk-type cord spun from continuous rayon filaments for lightness with great strength, resilience and resistance to heat and road-shock. A choice of an All-Weather center traction or a rib-type tread design is offered, with white or black sidewalls as fancy dictates.

DC-4 TIRES HOLD 170,000 POUNDS

Tire tests, most severe in aviation history, were made on the landing wheels of the giant DC-4, 42-passenger airliner built by Douglas Aircraft company, officials said today.

Loads of 170,000 pounds were imposed on the main landing gear and more than 50 "landings" were made in a special test laboratory before the transport plane was flown.

The tires, built by the B. F. Goodrich company, are five feet five inches in diameter, two feet across at the base and weigh 360 pounds.

Containing 45 miles of tire cord and four miles of bead wire the tires are the largest so far used in American aviation.

FOUR-LANE HIGHWAY SECTIONS FINISHED

New examples of four-lane highway separated by "dead" center areas for safety are now found along Foothill boulevard between Pomona and Ontario, reports the Automobile Club of Southern California, which has been advocating divided roads for a number of years.

Foothill boulevard 21-miles widening work provided a flat center area bounded by two double white lines. Drivers are expected to stay out of this center "no man's land" as protection against sideswiping and head-on collisions. Extending between Los Angeles county line and San Bernardino, this section now is the longest four-lane highway in the state.

The Valley Boulevard widening project just completed extends for county line and Colton. A raised center area bordered by double white lines has been established part of the way between Pomona and Ontario. West of Pomona motorists find still another type of division section on which raised white arrows have been laid to direct travel off the section. They cause a series of slight tire bumps "no trespass" area.

Average Motorist Unfamiliar With Stopping Speeds

Most motorists do not know how quickly their cars can be stopped, about half don't know the speed laws of their own cities, and many are unfamiliar with right-of-way rules.

This situation was uncovered in a recent national traffic safety survey, reports the Automobile Club of Southern California.

It was found that most drivers answering to a questionnaire thought their cars could be stopped within 15 feet or less while going 20 miles an hour. The correct distance is nearer 70 feet. The majority thought they could stop within as even with ideal conditions almost 60 feet at 40 miles per hour, where 150 feet is required.

Large Majority

Most drivers know the speed limit in school zones, but did not know it for residential districts. As to right-of-way regulations most drivers knew the proper answers and were prone to give the pedestrian even more privileges than the law accords him.

By a large majority, motorists voted that existing motor vehicle regulations are fair, but stressed the need for more uniformity and for stricter enforcement. Motorists questioned almost unanimously expressed the belief that the pedestrian should be compelled to obey reasonable regulations and be fined for flagrant violations.

The outstanding conclusions drawn from the surveys were that the average motorists is safety-conscious, anxious for a reduction in accident records, and reasonable in his approach to law enforcement.

FEDERAL AID FOR ROADS INDICATED

Assurances that California will be able to go ahead with her program of highway improvement and construction was indicated by the recent action of the congressional house committee on roads when it agreed upon a bill continuing federal aid funds to the states on the current basis for the fiscal years 1940 and 1941, reports the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Under the bill California will receive about $10,000,000 for each of the fiscal years. About half of the amount is for assistance in construction state highways; approximately $2,800,000 for secondary "farm to market roads" and elimination of grade crossings; and the remainder for roads and trails in National forests and other public lands.

Proposals to curtail Federal aid have been strongly opposed by the Automobile Club of Southern California. Previously disapproved in congress was a proposal to cut already authorized appropriations for federal highway aid in 1938 and 1939, California's loss would have been about $13,500,000 for the biennial period.

FLOODLIGHTS LURE CROWDS TO BIG DAM

Seeing Boulder Dam both by daylight and electric night light is popular practice among summer visitors, it was reported to the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

"During August and early September the night trip is cooler," notes the statement from the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce. "If the tour is planned for about 6 o'clock, the dam may be seen both by day and by night light."

Boat Trips

The tour through the power house, by elevator from the top of the dam, takes about one and a quarter hours. Excellent guide service is provided by the Bureau of Reclamation. The guides describe the project and answer all questions. The charge is 25 cents for adults, nothing for children. Elevators provide rapid service. Visiting hours are 6:45 a. m. to 10:15 p. m. daily, including Sundays and holidays.

Boat trips at nominal price are available from the boat landing on Lake Mead to the dam and other points, as well as into Grand Canyon. Bass fishing in Lake Mead is reported excellent, a recent catch scaling at nine pounds, it is stated.

Fences Of Light Are Newest Type Of Safeguard

Night driving safety is advanced by "fences of light" formed by a new type of plastic reflector set in units of three at 100-foot intervals along roadsides, it is indicated in recent communications to the signposting department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The patented, non-shattering, glass-like material casts a strong headlight reflection visible to front and rear for about a mile on straight road, it is claimed.

Night accidents on U. S. Highway 16 between Lansing and Detroit, Michigan, where the first trial installation of the reflector "fences" along highway edges was made, have declined 79 per cent in three months from April to July compared with the same period a year ago, it is stated by Murray D. Van Wagoner, Michigan state highway commissioner.

His telegram report said that effectiveness of reflectors is shown by the fact that daytime accidents declined only 37.5 per cent during the same period. There were nine night accidents on the highway recorded for the three-months period this year as compared with 43 night accidents for the same period a year ago. His record shows no fatal accidents at night for the same period this year compared with four last year.

It is anticipated by the automobile club signing department that California state and city authorities will soon experiment with the new brilliant reflectors to check their efficiency in accident prevention.

Two Autos To Be Bought By County

Getting on and off the jobs in the various projects connected with Orange county's $15,000,000 flood control and water conservation program in brisk fashion will be no difficulty for suryevors and other classes of workmen on the big jobs.

This was revealed yesterday when the Orange county board of supervisors voted to purchase a $2405 four-wheel-drive station wagon for "pasesnger" service, and a $2127 four-wheel-drive pickup truck to carry all kinds of equipment to and from the gigantic safety and irrigation-guarantee enterprises. The two motorized units will be purchased from the George Dunton Motor Sales Co., of Santa Ana, in time for actual Orange County Flood Control District contacts with the $7,000,000 Prado Dam, preliminary work for which already is under way.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

BEATING CHILDREN

After a lifetime of discipline, of intensive desire to be toleratant and patient and understanding of teacher's problems and children's difficulties, after all these years of teaching, I find I am not tolerant and I am not patient with some of the mistakes that are made in dealing with school children. I am angered by the beating of school children. There is no excuse for it. A teacher should never resort to such a practice and nobody should ever expect him to do such a thing.

A teacher's work is directed toward developing what is best in a child. We all agree to that. But what is best? What do we want the good child, our prize pupil, to develop? What sort of person is he to be? For me, and because of my long experience with parents, it is fine character. We want the children to cling to what is true, honest, just and lovely. The spiritual development of the child is the highest aim of the teacher.

The boy from the wrong side of the tracks goes to school. He knows little about the standards of the school. His manners are bad. His habits are not clean. His speech is crude. His lessons are far fram the standard. He finds himself sticking out in the group like the proverbial sore thumb. He exaggerates himself to a size he hopes will astonish the teacher and the class and win him admiration. They are astonished, but he wins a beating and no admiration. Did that help?

A little girl from a home that is little more than a shelter — father and mother working hard to get enough to house and feed and clothe their family—fails in her tables. Fails repeatedly. The teacher gets no reports signed, gets no help from home. She loses patience and thrashes the little girl. What will help there?

The head of a school feels himself like a general of an army. Association with a boy's school, for years and years, has made him feel all-wise, all-powerful. One of the boys is disorderly in assembly and he calls him out and makes an example of him by beating him into helplessness. To what end?

I can readily understand a teacher who loses patience with a child and slaps him. The child understands that too. When they cool off they make mutual apologes, and that's that. But when a teacher sets out to beat a child —that is different. There is no excuse for such a demonstration of the teacher's ignorance and helplessness. Force will not illuminate intelligence, and it is the teacher's primary function to do precisely that.

Beating a child leaves him resentful, not repentant. Beating him because he fails to learn is barbarity. A helpless child, perhaps one whose mind is not sufficiently developed to take the instruction offered, too immature, or too dull to understand, is beaten. The cruelty of it is unspeakable. No teacher worthy the name is guilty of it.

The school authorities are responsible for the laws governing the schools. This question is their first problem.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three cents stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

HELIOTROPE DRIVE WILL BE OPENED TO NORTH PARK BLVD.

The extension of Heliotrope Drive from 19th street through Santa Clara avenue and connecting with North Park boulevard, through the heart of Santa Ana's most exclusive residential section will be completed within 60 days.

This was the announcement today of Allison Honer, building contractor and owner of Floral Park sub-division, as plans for the completion of the tract development were completed.

More than a mile of development will flank the half mile of gently curving roadway through some of the finest walnut and orange groves in the county. Workers today started clearing out the roadway and the work of asphalting the road-bed and placing cement walks and curbs will begin as soon as preliminary work is out of the way.

Open 75 Lots

Approximately 75 lots will be opened up to the public when the final steps are taken in the development of the original subdivision of 20 acres in Floral Park, Honer said. The tract was first started by the firm of Ball and Honer in 1930. At this time the development was restricted to North Greenleaf street, on the east and North Flower street on the west. The extension of Heliotrope Drive will bisect the tract between the two streets.

Honer has been widely known in building circles in Southern California for the past 15 years, having served as the president of the Orange County Builders' Exchange during the years of 1927 and 1928 and is at present the first vice president of the National Association of Builders exchanges.

His partner in the sub-division, Harry H. Ball, was active in real estate in the community until his death in 1936. Since that time Honer has been carrying on the original plans of the partnership.

Restricted Area

The new artery through the north part of the city will be highly restricted. Honer said. Some parts of the new development will be restricted to homes costing $8000 and other parts $6000. Lots along the roadway will vary from 135 to 200 feet in depth and will be vailable in frontage from 60 feet up. The entire tract will be protected by set back lines and biulding restrictions.

During the eight yars Floral Park has been in development more than $1,500,000 in building has been added to the city, Honer said. Approximately 150 homes averaging $10,000 each have been built in the tract.

Church Is Closed By First Priest

CINCINNATI, O.—(UP) — The first and last masses to be celebrated in the Church of St. Peter and Paul in suburban Norwood were said by the same priest although 31 years separated the exercises.

In 1907 Rev. Bernard J. Beckmeyer, now pastor of a Dayton, O., church, celebrated the first mass in the small frame edifice, and recently he returned here for the last mass prior to the razing of the structure to make way for an enlarged and modern church on the same site.

Soap Box Derby To Be Held Saturday

William Klench, 15-year-old Boy Scout member of Troop No. 53 of Orange, yesterday made his first courthouse appearance, imposing debut in the office of District Attorney W. F. Menton and first speech before the county board of supervisors.

And he was successful in his venture—that of seeking consent of the supervisors to block off a portion of a road in east Lemon Heights from 10 a. m. to noon Saturday so the Orange troop could conduct its annual soap box derby.

Young Klenck was introduced to the board by Deputy District Attorney James E. Walker, who first was contacted by the young man.

"In my estimation," Klenck explained, "the plan will not be hazardous." The lucid manner in which Klenck presented his request immediately won over the board, which forthwith dispatched a message to the county road department to comply with the plea.

FARM ADVISOR TALKS TO CLUB

"Farming is coming to be more and more of a science, particularly in Southern California and Orange county." So declared Orange County Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg when he addressed members of the Santa Ana 20-30 club in Daniger's cafe last night.

Orange county, Wahlberg declared, is one of the leading producing districts in the country. It ranks third in counties of the United States from point of farm producing. Los Angeles county, he said, is first in importance of the value of agricultural income.

Significance of Orange county in comparison with the world of business is important, Wahlberg said. There is a close link between urban and suburban districts. This is true, he revealed, because "Agriculture is the largest source of new wealth in the county."

There are three reasons why this county is in such an advantageous position to produce fine agricultural commodities, the speaker emphasized. First, is the climate because it is such that citrus and other sub-tropical fruits can be grown here. Second is the soil, and third is water.

Specialized Crops

The present highly specialized crops are due to a combination of the three factors for which the county is in an advantage coupled with the fact that this county has been pioneering ground of the organization of cooperatives. Cooperative marketing and other cooperation of farmers has made this specialization possible, he declared.

Reasons for the cooperative movement has been brought about by the (1) water situation, (2) transportation problems, and (3) marketing problems, he revealed.

In pointing out the imoprtance the county has been in the pioneering movement of cooperatives, Advisor Wahlberg cited the fact that several foreign countries have taken some of the fundamental ideas of cooperatives from the county. Sweden and Norway are examples, he pointed out.

Production Climbs

Trends of county agriculture show that production has climbed rapidly. "In the past 10 or 12 years the acreage of citrus has almost doubled, while lemons has remained about stationary."

The outlook of lemons is not too encouraging, he said, while walnuts have gone down hill. Walnut acreage is going into oranges. Avocados have increased about 5 per cent, which means tremendous marketing problems, he indicated.

Wahlberg also pointed out the various trends of the beans and sugar beet industry.

Speaker Wahlberg was introduced by Program Chairman Ted Johnston. President Wylie Carlyle was in the chair.

FLOWER SHOW OPENS SEPT. 10

Saturday and Sunday will see the staging of the third Annual Orange county at Valencia ball-the combined Garden clubs of Orange counyt at Valencia ballroom, 101 highway. All Orange county gardeners are invited to enter flowers and plans in the event and all flowers must be at the ballroom by 10:30 Saturday morning. The show will open Saturday at 2 p. m. and will remain open until 10 p. m. Sunday the hours for the show have been set from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Of great interest is the offer of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club which offers a cup to be presented to the amateur grower of the best undisseminated dahlia seedling exhibited. The dahlia will be judged by rules of the American Dahlia society with 20 points given for color, 25 points for foliage and stem (stem 12 inches or more), size 20 points and substance 15 points.

The cup is to be perpetual and is to remain at all times the property of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club. It will be held by the winner for 12 months and will have his or her name engraved on it. The cup is being offered to stimulate an interest in experimental dahlia culture—that is producing new and finer varieties by seed.

A number of prizes have been on exhibition in Rankin's window the past week including the beautiful annual cup offered by the Santa Ana Register.

Jones Says S. C. Will Be Better

Football Gets Mara, Unmoved By Racing

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK—As a bookmaker, Tim Mara is about the coldest article that ever were a hound tooth's jacket.

Sitting on a high stool, by his slate, at Aqueduct, Belmont, Saratoga, Empire City, the big Irishman is a throwback to the ice age. Plungers walk up and lay five grand on a long shot and Tim doesn't bat an eye. Neither does he allow bets of twice that size on the favorite to disturb his calm.

When the horses, carrying a small fortune of his on their backs, go to the post, Tim is as unperturbed as a two buck bettor. He mounts his stool, turns his glasses on the barrier, and gives a sketchy call of the race in a flat, dead voice.

I listened to him yesterday during the running of the seventh at Aqueduct, a race in which he stood to lose a small fortune if Bonsior won.

Bonsoir broke on top and took a two length lead. Tim called it as quietly and unemotionally as if he had never heard of Bonsoir. When Julius Caesar caught Bonsoir in the stretch and came on to win by a head, all Tim said was: "The favorite's licked, boys."

No yelling, no jumping up and down, none of the hi-jinks that might reasonably be expected from a man who had just won thousands of dollars.

Tim isn't always so cold, however.

The horses don't get him, but football does.

Yes, football, because Tim is only a bookmaker on week days. On Sundays he is Tim Mara, owner of the New York Giants, a professional football team in the National league.

On Sundays he is so nervous he can't eat. At breakfast time he is worrying about what the team will do. At lunch he is worrying twice as acutely about the same thing. And at dinner time—well, win or lose, the excitement of the game has thrown his appetite for a 10-yard loss.

During a Giants' game the man who can watch a $25,000 blanket finish at the race track is a first cousin to a maniac. He tears his hair, rends his clothes, paces up and down, runs out on the field, and screams that can be heard above the roar of the elevated trains that pass the Polo Grounds.

I'm nuts about that football," Tim said yesterday during a lull in betting. "I've been nuts ever since 1925 when I bought the Giants' National league franchise. That's a funny story, that one about me buying the Giants. I was sitting in Billy Gibson's office, the same Billy Gibson who managed Tunney, when in came a Dr. March and a Mr. Carr. After a lot of small talk they tried to sell Billy the Giants' franchise. He said he didn't want it. So Carr turned to me and said I ought to buy it.

"I asked him how much he wanted for it, but told him not to make it much because I never had seen a football game of any sort. Carr said he would let me have the franchise for 2500 bucks. That sounded cheap to me, so I wrote out a check."

Mara was ready to pay someone to take that franchise half way in the National league season. Out $35,000, and with no sign of any dough coming in, he nearly passed out when "Red" Grange brought his team in and played to a gate of exactly $142,000.

"When I saw that crowd," Tim explained, "and knew that half the cash in the house was mine, I said to myself 'Timothy, how long has this gravy train been running?'"

It was no gravy train in 1927, however. C. C. Pyle, the Bunion Derby man, formed an American league with a team in New York and no one made any money. Tim finally got rid of Pyle by backing C. C. on a barnstorming tour.

But Tim didn't give up. He stuck with the Giants through the lean years and what do you think his franchise is worth today? I asked him, and here's his answer: "I paid $2500 for it and I wouldn't sell it today for 200 times that amount. And 200 times $2500 is half a million dollars. So you can see what I think of the Giants."

55 SAINTS OUT ON FIRST DAY: ENDS PROBLEM

At least a dozen additional candidates were expected at Clayton field today to join the squad of 55 Santa Ana High school football players that reported for the season's first practice yesterday.

Included in the opening turnout were all of Coach Bill Foote's 13 lettermen except Halbacks Wayne Piper and Melvin Barron, and the bulk of last year's undefeated sophomore string which is experted to fill vacancies created by the graduation of such stars as Don Warhurst, Bill Musick, Monte Klepper, Larry Stump, Milton Smith, Bob Maddock, Dick Horton, Ralph Pagenkopp, Marvin Webb, Bill Collins and Jack McClure.

Habitually optimistic, Coach Foote visions another successful campaign in the Citrus Belt league. He believes his squad will get away better than the 1937 team which was anything but impressive until it beat Pomona at mid-season.

"Our backfield should be better at the outset, although it may not be as strong at the finish as was our '37 backfield" said Foote. "Our chief problem right now is to develop a pair of ends to succeed Warhurst and Smith, and reserve ends to take the place of such boys as Sawyer, McClure and Ashen."

Barney Robinson and Ralph Barnes, both backfield men last season, were shifted to end as Foote lined up two tentative teams. Bob Webb and Leslie Crawford were at tackle, Bill Friend and Vernon Ashby at guard, Ralph Shallenberger at center. In the first string backfield were George Higashi, quarter; Gene Hamaker, left half; Charles Carrillo, right half, and Bobbie Musick, full.

The other team was composed of Jerry Buzick and Bill Was, ends; Brent Wahlberg and Bill Meyer, tackles; Bob Wooster and John Pollard, guards; William Waddell, center; Ross Barnes, quarter; Jack Nelson, left half; Bob Wright, right half, and Johnny Doi, full.

Those checking out equipment were:

Bill Friend, Harry Green, Delbert Hahn, Don Hamaker, Gene Hamaker, Kenneth Haney, Norman Heine, George Higashi, Lowell Huston, Bob Kelchner, Dick Kessler, Bill Lowe, Jack Mair, Howard McMillan, Ray Mercado, Bill Meyer, Bobbie Musick, Jack Nelson;

Bear Bulwark

Vic Bottari . . . packs, passes and punts for California. Along with all other Pacific Coast conference teams, the Berkeley Bears turn out for practice tomorrow.

TROJAN, BRUIN FOOTBALL MEN OUT TOMORROW

LOS ANGELES—Howard Jones may be conservative but he isn't singing the blues this season. As the University of Southern California coach opens his fourteenth Trojan season tomorrow, with the start of football practice, he looks ahead to the coming campaign with calm confidence and opined that S.C. hopes to become again a power in National gridiron ranks.

"Our schedule, with Alabama, Ohio State, and Notre Dame in addition to our seven principal conference opponents, is a killer. In the face of it, I wouldn't predict a championship for us if I know we had the greatest eleven ever assembled. But I'm willing to predict that we'll be considerably better than last year and sufficiently improved to make it interesting for anyone," he said.

"We look for improvement because we will have the most seasoned squad we have had in several years. Game experience in the past and constant drills should improve our blocking, which is still the chief element in offensive football. If Ambrose Schindler's knee hells sufficiently for him to play fullback, we should have more speed and versatility in our backfield."

The Trojan schedule with 1937 scores:

Sept. 24—Alabama at L. A.
Oct. 1—Oregon States at L. A. (12-12).
Oct. 8—Ohio State at Columbus. (13-12).
Oct. 15—Washington State at L. A. (0-0).
Oct. 22—Stanford at Palo Alto. (6-7).
Oct. 29—Oregon at Portland. (34-14).
Nov. 5—California at L. A. (6-20).
Nov. 12—Washington at Seattle. (0-7).
Nov. 24 (Thanksgiving day)—U.C.L.A. (19-13).
Dec. 3—Nore Dame at L. A. (6-13).

BRUINS PROMISE FINE AERIAL ATTACK

LOS ANGELES—"We're going to pass early and often—if I have to send in the waterboy to call signals."

That will be William H. (Bill) Spaulding's first remark to his U.C.L.A. skippers when practice opens Thursday on the Bruin campus.

The Westwood coach has emphasized during the summer that his plans call for increased use of the aerial attack. Last year the Bruins ranked eighth in the nation as a passing team, being outranked by six teams in the southwest conference and New York University.

Kenny Washington, the 195-pound Negro whose passing was the sensation of western football in 1937, will get plenty of hurlers to take the pressure off him during the season. The freshmen send up Fullback Warren Haslam, who appears to be the best short-range passer on the squad, and Charles Fenebock, Washington's understudy at left half. Fenebock can match Kenny for distance and is a strong runner.

WARDS BEATEN BY INGLEWOOD

Montgomery Ward, Santa Ana's lone entry in the Southern California softball tournament, dropped by the wayside last night, taking a 6-0 thumping from Inglewood at Sawtelle field.

Jumping on Roy Stout, starting Santa Ana gunner, for three runs in the first inning, the Inglewood nine coasted to an easy triumph behind the two-hit pitching of Bill Blake. Erwin Youel's triple and Jack Jackson's single were the only blows garnered off the Inglewood hurler. Walt Jordan finished on the mound for Montgomery Ward.

Orange's Lionettes, Anaheim and Tustin are the only Orange county teams that remain in the running for Examiner titles. Tustin makes its debut tonight at Sawtelle field, meeting the strong Bank of America team of Los Angeles. The box score:

YORBA LINDA AGAIN UPSETS CAPISTRANO

With eight opposition errors making the task easier, Yorba Linda made it two straight over San Juan Capistrano with a 6-1 victory in the Orange County league's play-off series at Yorba Linda last night.

Al Bushman let the Mission City nine down with three scattered hits, one a triple by Joe Avila in the second inning which accounted for Capistrano's lone run.

The teams clash again Friday night at San Juan Capistrano. The box score:

APOSTOLI WARMS UP FOR TITULAR FIGHT

SAN JOSE — (UP) — Freddie Apostoli, San Francisco middleweight, prepared today to start angling for a bout with the middleweight champion, Al Hostak of Seattle, after a two-round knockout of Mike Payan, San Diego veteran.

In his first fight since an appendix operation last April, Apostoli floored Payan three times before the veteran was counted out.

Apostoli is booked for a bout in San Francisco before going east in an attempt to arrange a meeting with Hostak.

REDS, PIRATES OPEN VITAL 2-GAME TEST

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NE WYORK—Cincinnati's dream of becoming the first club in mapor league history to win the pennant after finishing in the cellar the year before, will receive the acid test in a two game series opening today against the leaue-leading Pittsburgh Pirates.

In games today and tomorrow at Cincinnati the Reds have a chance to prove that they are not clutching at a phantom pennant. Only 4½ games off the pace, the Reds can slash the Pirates' lead to 2½ games by sweeping the series.

Catcher Mancuso Of Giants Out For Season

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(UP)—A split finger will keep Catcher Gus Mancuso out of the New York Giants' lineup for the remainder of the season. It was the same finger Gus broke last year and another examination revealed it more seriously hurt tha nat first believed. He suffered the injury in the recent series with Philadelphia.

YANKEES MAKE BID FOR SEATTLE ACE

SEATTLE—(UP)—An offer from Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Ne wYork Yankees, to purchase Freddie Hutchinson, the Seattle Rainiers' schoolboy pitching sensation, was being considered today by Emil G. Sick, the club owner.

Sick said Joe Devine, Yankee talent scout, had made the offer for Col. Ruppert and that he had been told to "name my own price."

His price, as given several weeks ago, was $100,000. Sick said he was standing firm on that price but said negotiations had advanced to a stage where discussion had been held of players who might be exchanged in such a transaction.

Hutchinson, big and powerful for hsi age, 19, has been the Pacific Coast league's sensation this season. He was won 23 games.

DEL MAR TRACK TO MAKE IMPROVEMENT

DEL MAR (UP)—Bing Crosby's Del Mar Turf club made plans today to spend $50,000 improving its track and plant before next summer's opening.

The expenditure, inspired by the $3,020,103 mutuel handle for the second season just closed, will be chiefly for more stables, bigger grandstand and landscaping.

DON OFFICIALS PUT 'FINGER' ON DOWNTOWN QUARTERBACKS

Alarmed lest other Eastern conference schools misinterpret the youthful organization's purpose and activity, Santa Ana junior college will take over administration of funds raised by the Downtown Quarterbacks club.

Dean of Men Calvin Flint went into a huddle with moving spirits of the Quarterbacks at the Y. M. C. A. last night, made clear the ilimitations the jaysee would expect if it were to be the recipient of the assistance from the pep boys.

"Any money raised by the Quarterbacks club through the sale of tickets into a reserved section at the Municipal Bowl must be controlled by the college," explained Flint. "More exactly, the money must go into a fund which will be available to all students of the college, athletic or non-athletic.

"The junior college has no desire to curtail downtown enthusiasm. Instead we are anxious to generate support for our athletic teams. However, the college cannot risk the possible violation of Eastern conference regulations. We feel we must administer any moneys in our own way."

After considerable discussion, the Downtown Quarterbacks club voted unanimously to allow control of the funds to pass into the hands of college officials.

"Our only purpose is to help," explained President Phil Hay. "We certainly do not want to embarrass the college or its administrators."

With the football season already here, this seems a good time to rehash the service to be returned by the Downtown Quarterbacks. I find there is considerable confusion and misunderstanding about it.

In the first place, ANYBODY, regardless of residence, is eligigle. Memberships cost $2 for the season. A Downtown Quarterbacks card admits the owner and one other person to a reserved section at all HOME games. It is NOT good away from the Bowl. The reserved section will be between the two 40-yard lines on the west side of the stadium.

The advantage of a membership is apparent to anyone who tried to battle his way into the Bowl last year when Santa Ana played San Bernardino, Fullerton and other opponents that drew large crowds. It means he can leave home at a normal time and still be assured of two good seats.

One of the points of confusion is this: the Downtown Quarterbacks card is good ONLY for a reserved seat. It DOES NOT admit members to the game. A member still must buy a ticket at the gate, selling at 50 cents, just as he always did. But he WOULD have two seats mighty near midfield once he got inside the stadium.

Approximately 250 memberships already have been sold. Cards are still available at The Register's business office, Al's Lock and Key Shop, Santa Ana book store, Deckert's Surgical company, Neal's sporting goods, Hugh J. Lowe's, Eddie Lane's cafe, and from Joe Harless at the First National bank.

Coach Bill Cook was an interested attendant at the meeting. Called on, he spoke briefly of Don prospects. He questioned whether the outlook was as promising now as it was last year although admitting he was impressed by the size and potential ability of some of the freshmen.

Bears Lost Heavily, But Far From Weak

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD
(NEA Service Sports Writer)

Shed no tears for California, 1937 Pasadena Rose Bowl champions, who to all outward appearances, lost everything but a student manager and a couple of water buckets for the coming football season.

The Golden Bears no longer have Sam Chapman, John Meek, Bob Herwig, Vard Stockton, Perry Schwartz, and Claude Evans, but west coast folks refuse to be taken in by this wholesale departure of talent.

Fans howled lustily when Stub Allison yanked his regulars so frequently a year ago, but Allison knew what he was doing. He maneuvered his squad so expertly that hic 1938 club will go to war with just as much experience as its championship prodecessor.

Those second and third stringers of last season were given an opportunity to absorb so much experience that there's no question about their qualifications as first-line performers.

There are enough holdover regulars to make a whale of a nucleus. Heading the list is Vic Bottarri the Valejo hot-shot who is expected to be the best ball-carrier on the golden slope this year. In addition to his leather-lugging activities, Botarri also will handle the bulk of Bears' aerial assignments and kick.

Dave Anderson continues where he left of fat fullback, which was full steam ahead, and Will Dolman, a devastating blocker, remains at left end.

Dave deVarnoa and Bill Stoll take over their tackle posts, leaving Allison to fill both guards, center and one end.

Competing for the wing vacated by Schwartz will be lettermen, Paul Semmens and Bob Wilhelm. Leading the race for the guard slots, formerly occupied by Stockton and Evans, are Tommy Ray, Jim McDaniel, Bill Plasch, Ray Hanford and Angelo Reginato.

Ralph Sauer, Jack Breeden, and Park Stone, lettermen all, are vicing for Bob Herwig's center job.

The biggest task will be to replace Meek and Chapman at quarter and right half, respectively. Bud Winterbottom and Bill Huters should do all right in the signal-calling position, while Lou Smith is expected to be quite a back before he's through at Berkeley.

It takes a wise coach to handle material so that experienced hands are available year after year. California fans who grumbled at Allison a year ago probably will be the ones to shout his praises the loudest in 1938.

OUT-OF-STATE STARS AMONG SQUAD OF 61

In an effort to kill two football birds with one stone—dodge warm weather and get out some of the employed athletes—Santa Ana jaysee's bumper squad goes into the Municipal Bowl tonight for the first of several practice sessions under the stadium's arcs.

As Coaches Bill Cook and John Ward have little more than a week to prepare the Dons for the first game of the season in the Pasadena Bowl a week from Friday, preliminary practice will of necessity be vigorous this week. The squad will drill every night until class work starts.

Twenty additional candidates reported for practice yesterday and early today, swelling the total turnout to 61. More were expected this afternoon.

Ed Becker, the 200-pound tackle from San Diego, continued to be a center of speculation among railbirds as a dozen or more steller prep stars from far and near started battling for first string berths.

Larry Monroy of Tustin, and one of the finest backs ever to come out of the Tiller school, showed up yesterday afternoon. Monroy and Billy Joseph, brother of Co-Captain Johnny, were immediately instructed to start learning the qurterback signals.

Some of the outstanding preps enrolled here:

1—John Harris, a four-year back from Fillmore High school.
2—Bob Davies, a line crashing 200-pound back from Minneapolis, said to be a 10-second sprinter.
3—Don Schmook, a 185-pound guard from Waterloo, Iowa.
4—Bill Ross, 200-pound tackle from Anaheim.
5—Willis Tracy, 185-pound center from Wilburham prep school in Massachusetts.
6—George Parker, a husky end or center from New York.
7—Jack Stafford, brother of Charles Stafford, Don fullback. Jack packs 175 pounds and hails from Oceanside.
8—Wesley Mulkins, 210-pound Escondido tackle. He was named on the All-Southern prep team last fall.
9—Billy Joseph, a halfback from Lincoln school, Los Angeles. Joseph weighs around 170 pounds.
10—Willis Hemphill, promising end from Huntington Beach.
11—Vic Lindskog, a Montana youth who is said to be headed for Stanford, via Santa Ana jaysee.

SEPT 14 LAST DAY TO FILE EXPENSES

While three more candidates in Orange county's August 30 primary today filed affidavits of receipts and expenditures, County Clerk Basil J. Smith made an important announcement in connection with the submission of reports by candidates.

"Wednesday, Sept. 14, is the last day on which affidavits may be filed by candidates as required by law," Smith pointed out. "The statute also applies to state candidates, including those for assembly posts, who must file with the secretary of state. The county candidates are to file an affidavit in the clerk's office and a copy in the office of county recorder. Every aspirant, except of course those for central committee posts must take such action by September 14.

"We cannot issue certificates of nomination before such papers have been filed."

Those who submitted affidavits today, their offices, and the amounts expended: County Recorder Fred Sidebottom, $767.53; County Treasurer T. E. Stephenson, $775.25; and James E. Keever, fho sought the nomination from the Fifth supervisorial district, $239.64.

MAY SELL CASTLE

LONDON, Sept. 7.—(UP)— The Evening Standard said today that William Randolph Hearst had decided to sell the Welsh castle which he purchased 13 years ago and on which he spent an estimated $1,250,000 for preservation and modernization. Its present value was estimated at $1,500,000.

Regular Meeting Of Vets Is Held

Calumpit Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, added one member to its roster at last night's meeting in the Knights of Columbus hall, received a visit from the department inspector, Walter L. Lynch of Long Beach and entertained visitors from Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pomona, Ontario, Fullerton, Hemet and several Orange county communities.

Dr. Rufus H. Edwards, of Balboa Island, was mustered into camp membership on transfer from Theodore Roosevelt Camp No. 9, of Los Angeles. His application to Calumpit camp was taken by adjutant Charles E. Dixon who had taken his application into Camp No. 9 in 1908. Dr. Edwards was a private in Company E, 21st Kansas Volunteer infantry, in the Spanish-American war.

Other matters attended to were the appointments of two committees by Commander Albert P. Dresser: One, a committee to arrange for a reservation of a place for the holding of a Citrus Belt U. S. W. V. club picnic and barbecue, at Irvine park, on October 9th. Past Commander Walter W. Tantlinger was appointed chairman with Bert Deck and Joseph Fitzgerald assisting; the other was the pot luck dinner committee for September 27, and for this committee the following were appointed: Willie A. Settle, Martin V. Allen and John P. Lewis.

Impanel Jury In Damage Suit

Process of impaneling a jury to hear the $1000 lawsuit of Mrs. Phyllis R. Ponsen, 19, of Laguna Beach, against Dr. A. H. Wightman, of Laguna Beach, in which Mrs. Ponsen asserts mal-practice on the part of the physician, was under way this morning before Superior Court Judge G. K. Scovel in department No. 3.

Mrs. Ponsen related in her suit, which she lost in Santa Ana justice court last March 29 and subsequently appealed, that she was an expectant mother on Aug. 25, 1936, and charges that Dr. Wightman improperly cared for her when she was in the hospital and that he failed to examine her before she was taken to the hospital. Dr. Wightman is represented by Attorney Milburn Harvey, while Attorney H. C. Cameron is listed as counsed for the plaintiff.

Concert At Birch Park Thursday

A compilation of tunes popular in the era of the Gay Nineties entitled "The Sidewalks of New York" will serve as the opening selection in the Thursday afternoon concert at Birch park when the concert band of the Federal Music Project again plays under the baton of Dale Porter.

The second number is Suppe's "Poet and Peasant" overture which will be followed by Brahms' Hungarian Dance, No. 6. The lilting waltz, "Signora," completes the first portion of the concert.

Following a 15-minute intermission, the concert will resume with a rendition of Hand's very melodious suite, "A Summer Night" composed in four beautiful parts: "Goblin's Gambols," "Love Song," "Dance of the Moon Sprites" and "Night Song."

The concluding number on the selective program is Meyerbeers "Torch Dance." The concert will start at 2:30 p. m.

Court Notes

Case of the people against Jess Roy Taylor involving a charge of non-support, which had been scheduled for hearing yesterday before Superior Court Judge James L. Allen, was continued in the same court until next week.

Hearing for Ramon Alvarado on a charge of failing to support his seven minor children is scheduled to be opened at 2 p. m. today before Judge Homer G. Ames in Department No. 1 of superior court.

Hearing of the case of Frank F. Ey jr., against F. E. McCarter and others, was in progress this morning before Superior Court Judge James L. Allen. Ey is demanding a judgment of approximately $1500 against McCarter in the deficiency judgment litigation, which was started last June 27.

Police News

Trial for Charles Lewis, Santa Ana, who pleaded not guilty yesterday on an assault and battery charge, was set for September 14 at 10 a. m. in city court. Judge J. G. Mitchell will hear the case.

Clyde McWhorter, 622 1-2 Garfield, told police he received a fictitious check in the amount of $5 recently while working at the Jerry Hall service station. He gave the check writer, now being sought, $1.80 worth of gasoline and change for the check, Officer Tom Kinney was informed.

On a warrant from Orange, Howard C. Clark, 23, 611 West Fifth, Santa Ana, was arrested last night by Officers L. H. Nicholson and Richard M. Bradley. He posted $10 bail to guarantee his appearance in Orange justice court late this afternoon.

Dickey Will Hold Removal Sale

Forced to vacate because of a cancelled lease, L. A. Dickey today announced the opening of a removal sale of all merchandise at the Dickey Furniture company at East Fourth and Spurgeon streets.

Cancellation of the lease came as the result of the purchase of the Hill building by the S. H. Finley company.

Dickey is at present negotiating for a new location but no announcement as to future plans was made public.

"We are sorry to have to vacate our present location," Dickey said today. "We have been at East Fourth and Spurgeon streets for the last 25 years and for the last 15 years we have been in our present location and previous to that we were established diagonally across the corner."

G. H. Griggs will supervise the sale.

"We have more than $25,000 worth of stock that we must get rid of at almost any price the customer wishes to pay in order that we will not be forced to move the merchandise to another location. Included in the sale will be furniture and household furnishings of all kinds, including rugs, linoleums, lamps and refrigerators.

"As soon as we are able to locate in our new quarters we will be more than happy to welcome the friendly customers who have faithfully supported us during the last quarter of a century," Dickey said.

Bar Association Calls Meeting

A special meeting of the Orange County Bar Association has been called by President Ira Kroese at 6:30 p. m. Friday at Danigers' cafe to prepare a platform of instruction for delegates to the 1938 state conference.

Included among the subjects for discussion are: survival of tort, nomination of administrators, campaign expenses of candidates, challenge of judges, contributory negligence, instructions to jury, interest on legacies, insanity pleas, lawyers retirement fund, pre-trial procedure, and liability of wife's separate property for debts.

Secretary George Parker made the announcement of the meeting.

Leaves To Attend Colgate Seminary

The Rev. Roland Pickhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Pickhardt of 1315½ North Main street, left Monday for Rochester, N. Y., where he will start his three years seminary training at Rochester-Colgate Seminary. The Rev. Pickhardt graduated from William Jewell college, Liberty, Mo., this spring.

Pay Tribute To Cardinal Hayes

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(UP)—double line of mourners filed silently and reverently today by the bier of Patrick Cardinal Hayes at St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth Avenue where the body will lie in state until the funeral Friday.

An estimated 35,000 persons yesterday viewed the body of the spiritual leader of the 1,000,000 Catholics in the Archdiocese of New York, who was found dead Sunday. Some 10,000 of them moved single file through the room in the Cardinal's residence before the body was taken to the cathedral, where the number of mourners was augmented by approximately 25,000.

The Cardinal will be buried Friday in the special crypt beneath St. Patrick's reserved for the archbishops of New York.

Women Throng To State Fair

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7.—(UP)—[illegible] were shoved into the background today as women's day turned up on the calendar of the California state fair and thousands of women arrived here from virtually every city in the state.

Women's festivities included a fashion show judging contest, morning "Mother America" pageant, long hair contest, flower arrangement competition and a noon luncheon in honor of Mrs. Frank F. Merriam, wife of the governor. Club members and feminine leaders from throughout the state received invitations to attend.

Agriculture day and state grange day provided the only competition for the women, who were expected to boost today's attendance to 60,000 as compared with 45,178 for this day last year.

"Swing" Seen As Aid To Industry

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 7.—(UP)—Introduction of "swing" and waltz music into industry today was presented to the American Psychological Association as a possible promoter of greater efficiency and higher morale among workers.

John F. Humes, Pennsylvania State College psychologist, reported the playing of phonograph records of fast and slow tempo resulted in increased efficiency among women employes in a radio tube factory.

Although the experiments were not entirely conclusive, Humes said the women generally performed their duties on a radio tube assembly line with less tube "scrappage" when music was played at half-hour intervals.

P.-T. A. TO MEET

TUSTIN, Sept. 7.—Next Tuesday night the Tustin Grammar School P.-T. A. executive board will meet at the home of Mrs. Orlo Householder, president, 301 West First street, to make plans for the coming year. The time is 7:30 p.m.

Octopuses are very popular in many countries as food, and sometimes are sold as canned lobster.

Lawrence Nelson, Beach Girl Wed

COSTA MESA, Sept. 7.—Lawrence Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nelson of Costa Mesa, and his bride, the former Miss Nadene MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. MacDonald of 207 Twenty-ninth street, Newport Beach, are honeymoonin gat Catalina island following their marriage which was an event of Sunday at the Laguna Beach Community Presbyterian church.

The double ring service, for which a candle light setting had been arranged, was ready by the Rev. James Nelson, an uncle of the bridegroom.

For her wedding costume, Miss MacDonald chose a blue silk net. Sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley were the bride's bouquet while Miss Elmore Hayden, maid of honor, wore rosebuds in tones harmonizing with her pink frock. Wolford MacDonald of Newport Beach was best man.

Mrs. James Nelson, organist, played the traditional Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches. Forty-five guests were present for the reception which was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Plan New Group For Woman's Club

MIDWAY CITY, Sept. 7.—Clive Adams, Midway City man, who is science teacher in Huntington Beach Union High school and president of the Toastmasters' club of Huntington Beach, is to be the speaker Thursday at the first meeting of the Midway City Woman's club.

Adams will outline the program for the organization of a Toastmistress' section for the Woman's club. The club season opens with the 12:30 o'clock pot luck luncheon Thursday, with the business session at 2 o'clock.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—(UP)—Benny Rosenfeld plays a violin in an Irish orchestra. He felt out of place. Today his name was changed by court order to Winston McGuire.

Speaking of Real Estate—

Local Real Estate transfers prove that homes are being sold every day. They are being sold by those who offer the property at the RIGHT PRICE and write a REAL AD.

The number of prospects you get depends on the kind of ad you write—the market is there. Condition, location, down payment, amount of land, total price are essential to the success of any real estate ad. Don't tell everything but tell enough to get the parties out to see the place and state when it can be seen. WELL TOLD is HALF SOLD.

CITY OFFICERS COLLECT $3684

Four city officials collected $3684.15 during August, records filed with city council last night revealed. The reports, from City Judge J. G. Mitchell, Building Inspector Harold Rasmussen, Plumbing Inspector H. O. Crowe and Electrical Inspector W. O. Packard, were referred to the finance committee for checking.

The judge collected $2712 for August, 1938, as compared with $2374 for July, this year, and $3186 for August, last year. Rasmussen issued 96 building permits for a valuation of $132,942 and collected $365 in fees; collected $142 for 25 plastering permits, and issued 15 building code copies, collecting $15.

Plumbing Inspector H. O. Crowe issued 99 plumbing permits, valuation $15,320, and took in $239 in fees. He also issued 27 sewer permits, collecting $27 in fees. W. O. Packard, electdical inspector, issued 95 permits, collecting $183 in fees.

Rain—and What Rain—Comes to California Desert

It doesn't rain very often on Southern California desert regions, "but when it does, she sho' do come down." This scene was made near Lancaster, 100 miles southeast of Los Angeles after freak cloudbursts turned roads into rivers, stranded automobiles and isolated several small towns.

Hearing Date On Pier Is Set

A routine public hearing to conform with legal requirements in connection with the proposed construction of a $90,000 pier at Seal Beach, will be held next week, it was revealed at yesterday's meeting of the Orange county supervisors.

Application for the hearing on the proposed project was submitted to the board by City Attorney Burr Brown, of Seal Beach, and approved by the supervisors after it had been checked by Deputy District Attorney James E. Walker.

The American rubber industry uses approximately 1,250,000,000 pounds of rubber annually; one tire company alone requires the yield of more than 50,000,000 rubber trees.

FROSH TO HEAR FACULTY TALKS

Most important meeting of Freshmen Days on the Santa Ana Junior college campus will be held tomorrow morning in the Congregational church, Seventh and Main streets, when registration procedure for new students will be explained by Director D. K. Hammond.

With registration for freshmen scheduled Friday, Director Hammond urged all freshmen to attend the explanation to avoid unnecessary delay and confusion. Freshmen whose surnames are L-Z will sign up from 8 to 11 a. m., while those A-K will register from 1 to 4 p. m.

"Some Difference Between High School and College" is the topic on which Thomas H. Glenn, head of the English department, will speak tomorrow morning. Greetings will also be extended by Phyllis Kogler, associated student social commissioner. Anne Wetherell, jaysee graduate, will sing several numbers accompanied by her mother, Mrs. H. G. Wetherell.

A complimentary luncheon for all freshmen will be given at noon in the Ebell clubhouse, 625 French street, with an associated student program following. President Bill Twist will introduce members of the college executive board who in turn will explain their duties and plans for the coming semester.

Remarks will be made by Superintendent Frank A. Henderson. He will be followed by Russell Haney and Wally Grigg in a comic skit. Miss Zena Lack and Coach Bill Cook also will speak. Co-Captains John Joseph and Larry Timken of the football team will be introduced.

Dancing in honor of the new students will be held after the luncheon.

Registration of returning sophomores will be held tomorrow. Those with surnames L-Z will register from 8 to 11 a. m., with those whose names are A-K will sign up and pay fees from 1 to 4 p. m.

Election Workers 75 Cents Hourly

While many candidates for office were anxiously waiting to scan offical totals that will be reached in the August 30 primary election, and tabulations of the absentee ballots, members of two special canvassing boards, appointed by the county board of supervisors when the latter this week turned its attention

Getting on and off the jobs in earning 75 cents an hour.

This was the amount of pay awarded the workers yesterday afternoon by the supervisors when they resumed the regular Tuesday session. There was little hope, according to County Clerk Basil J. Smith and members of the board, that totals would be available in either of the two cases within the next five days "because of the intricate process of canvassing required by law."

Police News

Brought to Santa Ana by Constable William Ponting of Newport Beach township, John Sawtelle, 23, Balboa, was booked at county jail yesterday on a burglary charge.

Fernando Andang, 25, Santa Ana Filipino, recently sent to county jail for a 25-day term after arrested on a misdemeanor morals charge, yesterday was rebooked at the jail to be prosecuted on a charge he has failed to support his minor child.

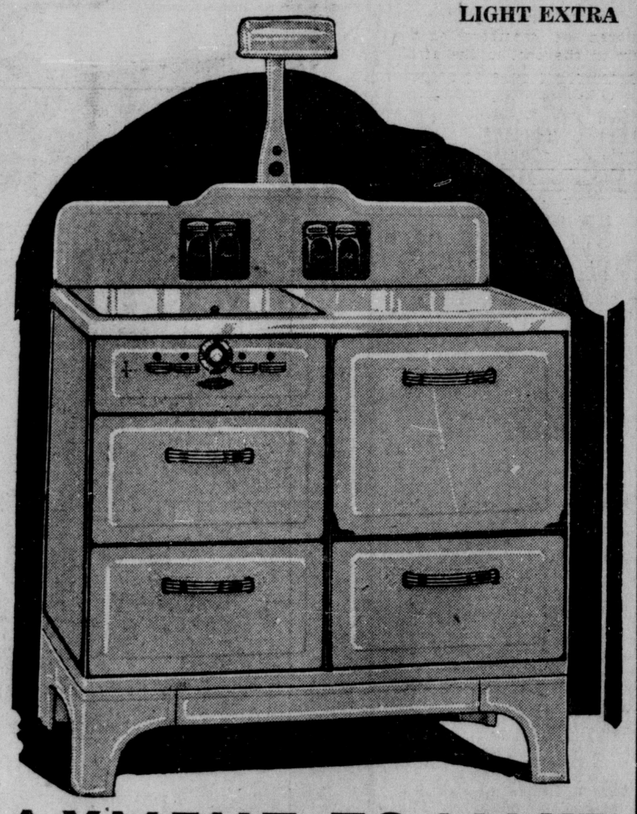

Emiliano Gonzales, Santa Ana, was jailed here yesterday for 90 days on order of City Judge J. G. Mitchell. Gonzales was charged with being a vagrant.

Arrested Sunday by Sergeant Hunter Leach and charged with being a vagrant, a 17-year-old Oklahoma boy yesterday was certified to juvenile court for prosecution.

MOVE TO BOOST WATER RATES BLOCKED

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, September 7.—Settin' Around (Universal): This is Hollywood's last frontier—the one major studio that makes a regular business of western melodramas and serial thrillers. In front of the studio casting office, waiting for a call, I always find a brigade of be-chapped, be-spurred and be-pistoled cow-waddies—most of whom were already old timers when I first came here, twenty years ago. I doubt if any casting director in town could name most of them—but, as a group, they have done more for movies than all the Garbos, Gables and Colberts in Hollywood.

Almost every theater-goer in America cut his teeth on westerns. Studios paid their overhead with westerns while they experimented with boudoir sophistication which, three times out of five, left a splotch of red ink on their ledgers. It is ironic that only one major—and that one the smallest of them all—continues to give horse-operas a permanent place on its schedule, ironic that our top-notch producers, directors and players have nothing but contempt for the type of picture that made Hollywood the worlds show capital—and still more remarkable that everyone of those contemptuous "class" studios, having encountered severe financial losses on their super-sophistication, is now rushing into production super-epics of the outdoors—which, in spite of all the high-flown adjectives spent on them, are nothing more nor less than the old-style western that Universal has been too smart to discard.

I've met a lot of extras who longed to be stars—but today for the first time, I met a featured player who wanted to be an extra. Vincent Price, a New York stage celebrity has been in Hollywood only a few weeks, and like most Broadwayites on the loose, he's a bit lonesome. So lonesome that today he stopped on the stage where "The Last Express" is being filmed and watched them shoot a New York subway jam. It took Price about five minutes to get permission from the director to play extra in that scene. And when I left, he was elbowing his way through the door of a prop subway car with a look of complete ecstacy on his face.

Kent Taylor, Dorothea Kent and the rest of the cast of "The Last Express" have originated a chorus and spend their time between scenes practicing barber shop harmonics. Today they got Director Otis Garrett's goat. "Stop!" he screamed as they hit a particularly tinny chord. "Stop it! I can't think with that infernal racket going on!" Stop it—I can't think," carolled Dorothea in her best soprano—and the others joined in. "For God's sake, stop that groaning!" roared Garrett. "For God's sake...." chanted the chorus. Garrett gave up, covered his ears with his hands and doggedly went on with his work—while the chorus started to sing "Old Man River—he just keeps rolling along..." There are times when I would not want to be a director.

Arrived on "That Certain Age" set just in time to witness a momentous event—Deanna Durbin's first screen kiss. Deanna seemed calm about it but Jackie Cooper, the kisser, was frankly enthusiastic. Too much so, for after a couple of takes, Deanna stopped production long enough to ask him not to kiss her "so hard." The director smiled and whispered to me:

SMITH CLAIMS ACTION UNFAIR

Councilman Joe P. Smith's popularity which resulted in his selection last night in the absence of Mayor Fred C. Rowland, as chairman for the council meeting, didn't last.

For when the final adoption of the amendatory ordinance, increasing the water assessment schedule by $1 for each minimum rate, was brought up, Smith was the "monkey-wrench in the machinery." He objected to adoption of the ordinance from every viewpoint. He thought the method of raising water rates to pay for Santa Ana's share of the outfall sewer repair or replacement was inequitable. With Mayor Fred C. Rowland absent, attending a municipal program in Santa Barbara, Smith's "no" vote resulted in a dead-lock.

The second and final reading of the water assessment ordinance went for naught because of Smith. Outcome of the negative action by Smith was decision to hold the next council meeting next Monday night at 7:30 p. m. The regular meeting was to have been two weeks from last night. Smith's fellow councilmen were disgusted, they indicated.

Vote Futile

When Smith submitted a statement of his viewpoint on the water assessment increase, the council immediately ordered it received and filed. Smith's "no" vote on the assessment was futile because, when the mayor returns next week and votes as he did before, in favor of the water assessment increase, Smith's vote will not dead-lock the council.

By increasing the water rate, $1 additional for each minimum schedule, the council expects to raise $50,000 in seven months and to apply the sum on the outfall sewer line, damaged by the March 3 flood. In seven months, the council majority says, the water rate will again be as at present.

With first reading of the water assessment ordinance at the meeting before last night, council set the tax rate at $1.59 per $100 assessed valuation. Previously, the council set the rate at $1.80 but decided the water assessment increase would take care of future needs of the city since those needs are chiefly in relation to the outfall sewer line.

Smith Speaks

Smith claims the small property owner is penalized more than anyone else by the water assessment increase. His statement which the other councilmen filed without comment nicludes the following statement:

"I believe that water, a life-giving necessity, should be furnished by the municipalities as nearly at cost as possible. The occupant of a single family residence will have his rates increased $1 per month, or 100 per cent, while the owner of a multiple famliy dwelling, ranging from two to as high as a dozen families, will only be taxed $1 regardless of the amount of water used, which is all out of proportion."

Council Appoints New Officer

One special police officer appointment was made by city council last night after consideration by Police Chief Floyd W. Howard and Police Commissioned Plummer Bruns.

The applicant granted the privilege was Don Abbott, 809 West Walnut, who will be relief watchman at the Santa Ana high school; James A. Randell, 2024 West Eighth, who will be inspector for the department of agriculture, and C. D. Richards, who will be special officer for the Famous Department store, will be considered by Chief Howard to whom their applications were referred.

STATE FORESTRY BUILDINGS TO BE DEDICATED SATURDAY

One of the most elaborate and colorful events in the history of the California state forestry service in Orange county will take place Saturday when new $25,000 state forestry headquarters buildings will be formally dedicated at Yorba Linda and San Juan Capistrano.

This was the announcement today of the Yorba Linda Chamber of Commerce and firemen of that city, and Capistrano firemen and state foresters in that city, who are co-sponsors of the event.

The celebration, according to Joe Schermen, state forest ranger at Orange, will open at 10 a. m. Saturday at the new station in San Juan Capistrano where notables will gather for the elaborate program, and then will shift to Lorba Linda at 3 p. m. Scherman, together with other rangers, members of the Chamber of commerce and firemen of the two cities have nearly completed all details for the observance and dedication.

M. B. Pratt, state forester, and H. S. Gilman, member or the state forestry board, both of Sacramento, will be among the prominent sjeakers for the occasion. Wardens from Los Angeles and Ventura counties have been especially invited, as have rangers from Riverside, San Bernardino, Kern and San Diego counties. P. H. Dean, of San Diego, forest supervisor for the Cleveland National Forest will be present, according to those in charge.

It was pointed out that construction of the two buildings at a total cost of approximately $50,000 was completed through the cooperation of WPA officials and Orange county officials with members of the state forestry service.

Officials pointed out that the two units gratly will add to the protection facilities already in operation in the local area. A summer crew of six to eight men will be maintained at each station, there will be one large fire truck and a pick-up truck available for each unit. The Yorba Linda station, which will have charge of all northern Orange county areas, will be under the supervision of John Tomblin, newly appointed assistant ranger, while the Capistrano quarters will be supervised by Elmer Osterman.

Other units already in operation in the county include those at Orange, Trabuco, Midway City, and one nearing completion at Costa Mesa.

Most suicides occur about 11 a. m., according to records.

Mayor Absent On City Business

Mayor Fred C. Rowland and City Engineer J. L. McBride were absent from the city today, attending the California League of Municipalities convention at Santa Barbara.

Miss Ethel Walker, Santa Ana librarian and secretary of the library section of the league this year, will join Mrs. Theodore Brewitt, Long Beach librarian, to attend the all-day session of the league on Friday. They will join in the activities of the library section of the league's convention, on Friday. Chief subject to be discussed will be civil service and its application to library employes.

M'Kinley P.-T.A. To Meet Sept. 27

Members of the McKinley P.-T.A. will meet at the school September 27 at 7:30 o'clock, with a reception for teachers planned. The executive board will meet September 21 at 1 o'clock for a dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Floyd Mitchell, 1056 West Sixth street, with Mrs. John State as co-hostess.

The executive board held a meeting recently at Orange city park, with the following members present: Mrs. Albert Garthe, Mrs. Tom Kinney, Mrs. Faber Bray, Mrs. Floyd Mitchell, Mrs. Dale Elliott, Mrs. Herbert Hildebrant, Mrs. Norman Franklin, Mrs. William Kredel and Mrs. John State. Children of members enjoyed a swim in the pool in the afternoon.

TWO BROTHERS ESCAPE DEATH

Two brothers, H. B. Frisbie, 37, of New Westminster, and A. C. Frisbie, 32, of San Bernardino, owe their lives to an inner tube which trey took with them when they went in swimming east of the city of Huntington Beach yesterday afternoon.

The brothers got beyond their depth and a strong current carried them several hundred yards from shore. The same current changed its course and finally carried them back to shallow water. Completely exhausted and chilled, the brothers managed to make their way to shore.

In the meantime, Mrs. A. C. Frisbie, who was standing on shore, signalled a car on the Coast highway and sought the aid of Bud Higgins, chief of Huntington Beach life guards, and other guards, who gave first aid for an hour and a half before the near victims of the ocean responded to treatment.

According to reports, H. B. Frisbie is a fair swimmer but his brother is unable to swim.

Thanks Council For Park Use

Lawrence Haupert, recording secretary of the Santa Ana council of the Knights of Columbus, last night submitted a letter of thanks to city council in appreciation of the council's action, granting use of Santiago park for the organization's eighth annual barbecue, held August 28. Haupert said the barbecue was the finest in the group's history.

County Council Of Lions To Picnic

Final plans for attending the annual picnic and barbecue of the Anaheim Lions club for the county council of the organization, at Anaheim city park at 6:30 p. m. September 15, will be made at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana club tomorrow at the Masonic temple, it was announced today by John Henderson, secretary.

No program has been arranged for tomorrow's meeting, President Don Jerome said, in order to have an opportunity for committee reports, induction of new members and a general business session.

Council Acts On Zoning Changes

After consultation with the city planning commission last night, city council acted upon four zoning-change proposals.

A. M. Drumm asked that the single family zone on McFadden between Maple and Oak streets be changed so he can erect a duplex there. Upon recommendation of the planning commission, council ordered protest hearing notices posted and a public hearing held September 19 at 7:30 p. m. The same date was selected for a similar hearing requested by Miss Verna E. Wells, for a duplex construction at Wakeham and Halladay streets.

At the planning commission's recommendation, request of the Second Baptist church for permission to erect a church at the southeast corner of Broadway and Bishop was denied. Twenty protestants signed a petition stating property values of the neighborhood would be decreased.

Jasper Farney, contractor, was granted permission to erect a duplex on the northeast corner of Richland and Van Ness after the planning commission conferred and made recommendation.

ROTARY HEARS SALES EXPERT

"Salesmanship is dependend on the service given by the salesman and service is made up of three elements: the quality of work done, the quantity of work done, and the spirit of mental attitude of the worker."

This was the theme developed by D. H. Gerard, sales counselor, yesterday at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Rotary club at the Masonic Temple.

Gerard, a former associate of Arthur Frederick Sheldon, who is said to have been the founder of modern sales methods, declared that "salesmanship is the heart that pumps the life blood of service into all fields of activity."

Two basic points in selling outlined by Gerard when he declared that "people buy things to save all the things they hold near and dear to them or to add to the things they already possess."

Felton Downing was program chairman for the day and introduced the speaker. President William Stauffer announced that all plans had been completed for a picnic barbecue to be held next Tuesday evening at Irvine park. Approximately 75 members and their families are expected to attend the affair.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS — WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Club Leader Honored With Garden Party

"Such happy associations as these of today promise a happy club year," declared Mrs. L. E. Tarbox yesterday afternoon, when as the June-installed president of Woman's club of Santa Ana, she was complimented by her club at the annual "President's reception," a gala affair staged in the garden of the Dr. Frederick W. Dean home, 1103 Louise street.

Clubwomen were fortunate in having such a charming spot placed at their disposal for this gracious gesture to their incoming president, for the Dean garden at the rear of a lovely home, offers a wide expanse of grassy lawn shaded by bending walnut trees. It was reached by a flagged walk after entrance through beds of pink verbena and brilliant blue sage. The beamed porch at the rear made an ideal stage, where a small piano stood in readiness for the program.

Greetings after a summer lapse in meeting, were animated and gay and members and their guests gathered in friendly groups for interchange of summer reminiscences. A touch of formality was given by a receiving line headed by the inspiration for the affair, Mrs. Tarbox, and her sister officers, with the afternoon hostess committee assisting.

In Formal Attire

Mrs. Tarbox was very handsome in a long frock of flower-figured black georgette accented with vivid red roses at the shoulder. Mrs. Dean's frock was of black lace, simply fashioned. All assisting hostesses wore smart afternoon gowns of lace or chiffon. Mrs. Glenn Hulse, who had charge of the program, wore a flowered white chiffon with lipstick red taffeta jacket. Mrs. Raymond McMahon, chairman of the hostess committee was in heavy aqua lace.

Tiny tots and advanced pupils of the Mary Morton School of Dancing provided the program, with Mrs. S. L. Vinson (Gelene Goble) accompanying the majority of them although Mrs. R. E. Buell played for Miss Lorie Buell in her effective "Adventure," in Cavalier costume of black and pale green satin, and a beautiful Spanish dance in be-ruffled gown.

The song, "Loch Lomond," and a Scottish tap dance was the opening number by Caroline Wells; Nina and Megan Kiph did a pretty "Parasol ballet"; Geraldine Shell and Lorraine Pollard did the song and dance of "Shortnin' Bread," and later added a waltz tap; tiny Lonita Vincent danced the "Rendezvous"; Nina Kiph gave a Russian number and Gwen Boutault followed with a Soldier dance.

Dates Announced

Various section announcements were made before the tea hour, when Mrs. Tarbox and her vice president, Mrs. P. R. Arnold, took their places at the tea table. Silver and copper tea urns looked charming with the lace cloth and the bowl of pink gladiolus blooms mingled with white asters. Petits fours and tea were served, with Mrs. R. W. Cole and Mrs. William E. Denniss aiding the president and vice president.

Mrs. McMahon's capable committee included with Mrs. Dean, Miss Linda Kroeker, Mesdames L. G. Holman, Hal Noel, E. O. Ahern, R. W. Cole, J. A. King, Earl Lepper, Byron Quivey, William E. Denniss, Dora Warner, Parrie Salter and Edna Webb.

Announcements included the first formal program on September 20 in Veterans hall where Karl Yens, Laguna Beach artist of note, will be speaker. Homecraft section will meet the following day in Bowers Museum at 2 p. m. Poetry section will meet next Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. with Mrs. Minnie Collins, 210 East Santa Clara avenue, and Philanthropy section announced a 1 o'clock dessert bridge for Thursday, September 15, with Mrs. E. O. Ahern, State highway, Tustin.

Wedded 60 Years

MR. AND MRS. ASA VANDERMAST

Quiet Celebration Given To Sixtieth Wedding Day

Active for many years in Santa Ana's business, social and church circles, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Vandermast, 425 South Birch street, now take prominent place on the list of a few local couples who have exceeded their golden wedding day by 10 years. For on Sunday, the Vandermasts gave quiet observance to the 60th anniversary of their wedding of September 4, 1870, back in Newton, Iowa.

Because both Mr. and Mrs. Vandermast have been in rather frail health for the past months, Mrs. Vandermast as the result of a bad fall a year ago, the anniversary was made a very quiet one by their sons and daughter. But all members of their immediate family circle called at some time during the day, and there were flowers and gifts in profusion to commemorate the wedding of sixty years ago. A big cluster of vivid roses was among the gifts from their children.

Happy Memories

John Newell, Mrs. Vandermast's brother, was down from Los Angeles, and many were the happy memories recalled of the golden wedding day which he brightened for the Vandermasts just ten years ago while all were in Paris. He entertained at a surprise dinner party for them, with Mrs. R. E. Coulter of this city, completing the intimate little group. Mrs. Vandermast recalled with much pleasure, her excitement when a page approached her with a silver tray upon which were cablegrams from her sons and daughter here in the Southland.

For Mr. and Mrs. Vandermast have traveled far afield, and in addition to the European tour, have toured South America as well as all places of interest in this country. Mr. Vandermast's pleasant memories of the travels in Europe, are centered around those in his native Holland. Born in a little village near Amsterdam, he came to the United States with his parents when he was but four years old. They settled in Orange City, Iowa, virtually a Holland settlement.

Mrs. Vandermast was born in Bucyrus, Ohio, but her parents too moved to Iowa when she was a child, and there she met the young man already starting on his prosperous career as a merchant. The marriage of Miss Abby Newell and Asa Vandermast followed, and for a number of years the young couple lived in Iowa, first in Prairie City and then in Ames, in both of which Mr. Vandermast was in the mercantile business.

Shortly after the turn of the century they came to Santa Ana, where Mr. Vandermast established the Vandermast Clothing store, which has continued as one of the leading men's clothing businesses of the community, and now managed by his sons, is known as Vandermasts, Inc.

The children are Walter Vandermast, Mrs. Walter N. Prince and Murray Vandermast. With Mrs. Walter Vandermast, Mr. Prince and Mrs. Murray Vandermast, they were all with their parents at intervals Sunday, as were the grandchildren, Newell Vandermast and his wife of this city, Kenneth Prince of San Diego, also with his wife, and Louis Vandermast of Los Angeles.

On Monday, Judge Charles Baldwin, a nephew of the celebrants, and Mrs. Baldwin drove down from Los Angeles to add their felicitations to those of other members of the family circle.

GYPSY WANDERINGS

Taking their departure yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Flagg, 1320 North Broadway, had in prospect a fortnight or longer of motor travel exactly when and where their fancy dictated. For the first few days they were to follow a more formal program, with San Francisco, its bridges, theaters and cafes as destination.

From that point, they planned to follow the gypsy trail, and donning slacks, seek just such scenic points and places of interest as offered attraction at the time. The Redwood highway was to be one of the motor trails to be followed.

Adelina Patti, often referred to as the highest paid prima donna on the operatic stage, earned $5,000,000 in her lifetime.

WORK FOR DEGREES

Mrs. Emma S. Kelly, who soon will resume her duties as a member of the teaching faculty at Delhi school, has returned from a summer of study in Los Angeles, and is now pleasantly located for the winter months in the George Peters apartment, 110 West First street.

Studying at University of Southern California for her Bachelor of Science degree, Mrs. Kelly completed the course and won her degree late in July. However she remained for the second session of summer school to work for her Master degree.

South Lyon street, have returned from Yosemite and Glacier Point, where they spent their vacation. Mrs. Pearson is resuming her duties with Pacific Electric Railway company.

Two Pastors Officiate At Bridal Rites

Interest which scores of friends have felt in plans for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Rose Goodner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Goodner, 506 East Myrtle street, and the Rev. Clyde Johnstone Kennedy, son of Mrs. Florence D. Kennedy of Los Angeles, reached its peak last night with the beautiful ceremony at which the couple exchanged vows.

First Presbyterian church provided an ideal background for the rites, read at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. Louis T. Talbot, pastor of Church of the Open Door, Los Angeles, with the assistance of the Rev. Frank Lindgren of Santa Ana Calvary church.

Adding to the picture of stately beauty presented by the altar was the decorative arrangement of white dahlias and larkspur in the light of twinkling tapers. Gordon E. Hooker, pianist at Church of the Open Door, was at the organ for the Lohengrin and Menhelssohn wedding marches and for soft accompaniment to various solos. Miss Evelyn Catherwood of Riverside and James Davis of Long Beach, sang such favorites as "Until," "Because" and "All For You." Frank Lindgren jr. played the vibraharp.

Mr. Lindgren also served as usher, assisted by Edwin P. Rogers of Hollywood, Earl Kennedy and Ralph Kennedy. Miss Goodner's brother-in-law, Richard K. Maas of Hollywood, was best man.

Lace From Erin

The bride was charmingly attired in white satin, fashioned princesse style and worn with an antique lire lace veil from Ireland. Gardenias, roses and bouvardia formed her exquisite bouquet. Miss Jane Gooodner, as her sister's maid of honor, wore rose lace and carried Jane Cowl dahlias. A similar bouquet was carried by another sister, Mrs. Richard Maas, whose gown was of turquoise blue marquisette. Little Miss Katherine Marie Gettys, in turquoise net, added to the charm of her flower-girl costume with a Colonial bouquet of Talisman roses and sweetpeas.

Quite as effective as the wedding setting was that for the reception in the Goodner home where flowers and tapers stressed the bridal idea. Mrs. Goodner wore golden Havana chiffon with Talisman roses, and the bridegroom's mother was in chartreuse satin with gardenias. The bride's aunt, Miss Marguerite B. Grow, who came from her Texas home especially for the ceremony, wore black chiffon with gardenias.

Journey East

When the Rev. and Mrs. Kennedy left for their honeymoon trip east by way of Grand Canyon, Dallas, Tex., and other points, Mrs. Kennedy was wearing a beige alpaca and lace frock with dubonnet accessories and gardenias. The couple plan to spend some time in Chicago, Ill., and at Niagra Falls. Their home will be in the east, where the pastor will carry on his work.

The new Mrs. Kennedy became affiliated with Alpha of Areta while attending Universiy of California at Los Angeles, from where she was graduated in June. She finished at Bible Institute of Los Angeles in 1935. The bridegroom, a 1933 graduate of U.C.L.A., was graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1936.

Eighty-sixth Birthday Party Attended by Circle Members

One of the most delightful affairs in which members of Shiloh Circle, Ladies of the G.A.R. have taken part recently was a surprise party yesterday afternoon in celebration of the 86th birthday of Mrs. Mattie Conkle.

The honoree's daughter, Mrs. Lulu Blacketer, had planned the event, inviting the intimate group to her mother's home, 1020 North Ross street. There were quantities of marigolds, stocks and other flowers to suggest an orange and orchid motif observed in various details of the party.

Handkerchiefs, cards and other gifts were showered upon Mrs. Conkle. Her daughter provided a beautifully decorated cake whose white frosting was ornamented with tiny flowers and lighted with gold candles. The confection was served with ice cream and other dainties which guests enjoyed while seated at a table appointed with colorful nutcups. Tall yellow tapers were tied with orchid bows.

Mrs. Edith Cardwell assisted Mrs. Blacketer throughout the afternoon. Others present were the birthday celebrant, Mrs. Conkle and Mesdames Lulu Hall, Mary King, Margaret Van Meter, Emma Wright, Elizabeth McLeod, Melissa Zimmerman, Kate Johnson, Nellie Harlin, Louisa Butts, Alice Cull, Laura Wilkes and Maude Wallace, president of Shiloh Circle.

Sunday Bride To Make Home In Santa Ana

When the new Mr. and Mrs. Homer Davis return from honeymoon travels through northern California, it will be to a home awaiting them at 719 East Chestnut street, and a warm welcome from the many friends of the bride in this city where she has been employed.

Mrs. Davis was Miss Lillian Trapp, bookkeeper at the M. Elitste company, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Trapp jr. of Anaheim. Her marriage to Homer Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Davis of Fullerton, was a formal event of Sunday, September 4, in Zion Lutheran church, Anaheim.

A hundred and fifty or more friends assembled for the 7 o'clock rites, which were preceded by an organ recital with Mrs. Olive Kempin at the console. She also played the Wagner and Mendelssohn Wedding Marches, and accompanied Veda Dutzi in the solos, "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me." The Rev. H. G. Schmelzer, pastor of the church, conducted the ceremony. White blossoms starred the palms and ferns banking the candle lit altar, and the bridal path down the aisle was marked by clusters of white larkspur.

Entry of Bride

Miss Trapp, given in marriage by her father, was very lovely in her formal gown of white satin with pearl clips. Her tulle veil fell from a lace halo to which it was attached with pearls and orange blossoms. The bride roses and lilies of the valley of her bouquet were centered with orchids. Bridal traditions were observed with a lace handkerchief, borrowed from her grandmother, and the "something old" and "blue," combined in the blue-set locket nearly a century old, which had belonged to her great-greataunt.

Miss Helen Trapp was her sister's honor maid, and was gowned in pale pink flowered net, girdled with aqua grosgrain ribbons. Her flaring net veil was caught with a wreath of tiny flowers matching the pink roses and blue delphinium of her bouquet. The Misses Marian Gragg, Lucille Eltiste and Metha Bouas as bridesmaids, wore similar frocks in aqua blue flowered net accented with girdles of dubonnet grosgrain ribbons. Their matching veils fell from flower wreaths, and all three carried pink pompon dahlias wreathed with maidenhair. All wore the bride's gifts of rhinestone bracelets.

Home Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Trapp complimented their new son-in-law and daughter with a reception in their Rio Vista avenue home, garlanded with flowers for the occasion. Mrs. Trapp wore a lace gown in Copenhagen blue, while the senior Mrs. Davis wore aqua crepe. Both wore Talisman rose corsage bouquets.

The new Mrs. Davis cut the first slice from the tiered wedding cake with its small bridal figures wreathed with orange blossoms. Heart-centered ice cream slices and fruit punch completed the wedding refreshments.

When the young couple left for their motor honeymoon, Mrs. Davis donned a tailleur in forest green with squirrel trim, and wore the orchids from her formal bouquet. She had her secretarial training at Johnston's Business Institute after graduation from Anaheim High school, Mr. Davis, also a graduate of Anaheim High school, is with an oil company in Torrance.

Mixing Bowl
BY ANN MEREDITH

If I had a deep seated grudge against some woman, I'd satisfy said grudge in a subtle way: I would invite her to luncheon and serve for dessert, Chess Pie. Of all the figure wrecking little things, a chess pie takes the prize. However, the recipe has been asked for, and this is the one I consider tops:

Chess Pie

Cream ½ cup of soft butter with 1 cup sugar to the waxy stage
Beat 2 egg yolks and 1 whole egg, and strain into the creamed sugar. Mix well and add:
1 cup of chopped raisins, or ½ cup raisins and ½ cup currants
2 heaping tablespoons finely chopped citron.

Meringue

2 egg whites beaten stiff, then with
½ cup powdered sugar until glossy
Stir in ¼ cup ground blanched almonds and enough rum or rum flavoring to give a definite flavor.

Use ordinary pie crust to line muffin tins (flute edges, please). Put a tablespoonful of the butter and fruit filling into each cup and bake in a quick oven to set the pastry nicely. Take out and pile each pie with meringue, return to a SLOW oven and bake until the meringue has become brown and crusty. The recipe will make nearly a dozen pies.

Let's return to earth and discuss whether or not you need a reducing diet: When you undress pick up the flesh along the ribs with finger and thumb. If it seems a bit thick, by that I mean more than an inch between your fingers, you need to get busy right now, and that very definitely.

Send for the Safe and Sane reducing diet. It does the work painlessly and keeps you looking like a million. Please enclose stamped, addressed envelope when you send for the diet.

YOUR NEIGHBOR'S FACORITE RECIPES

Oyster Fritters

1 dozen large oysters, washed and dried in towel, before quartering.
Batter:
1 cup flour sifted with dash of salt and cayenne
1 egg yolk beaten with 7 tablespoon salad oil
Milk or oyster liquor to make a thick batter
1 egg white beaten stiff.
—Contributed.

The batter should be just thick enough to "plop" heavily off the tip of a spoon. Mix the batter, fold in the quartered oysters, then the stiffly beaten egg white. Drop by spoonfuls into deep hot fat. Serve with lemon slices and tartar sauce.

If deep fat cookery is impossible, why not fry the fritters? In that case, add enough grated dry crumbs to thicken the batter, then stir in ½ teaspoon baking powder dissolved in 1 teaspoon boiling water. Fry like hot cakes, using bacon or butter fat for the pan.

Peach Meringue

3½ cups of milk boiled, then thickened with
2 level tablespoons cornstarch rubbed smooth in ½ cup of cold milk
Add 1 heaping tablespoon butter and when cool
Beat in 3 egg yolks, followed by ½ cup powdered sugar.
A quantity of sliced peaches sugared
3 egg whites beaten stiff with ½ cup sugar and ½ cup lemon juice (2 tbsps).
—Contributed.

Butter wide baking dish and arrange sliced peaches, 3 layers deep, in the pan. Pour the custard over the peaches and slip into a medium oven for 20 minutes. Remove and cover with meringue and return to oven to brown. Serve hot or cold with cream and sugar.

MOUNTAIN PARTY

Golfing over a mountain course, dancing at the Village and a general enjoyment of resort life at Idyllwild, formed the pleasant holiday week-end program which Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fernandez shared with a group of friends in their Idyllwild cabin.

The party, which motored up to the resort Friday afternoon and remained until Monday night, included with the hosts, the Roy Langleys, the J. Riley Hubers, the George Ostermans and the Bennie Ostermans.

Club Officers Outline Plans for Opening Activities

Preliminary to the opening of Wrycende Maegdenu club's 1938-39 year was a meeting of the old and new cabinets last night following a dinner at which Miss Genevieve Humiston entertained in her home at Laguna Beach.

Plans were made for the first general meeting, which will be held next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Y. W. rooms, where covered-dish dinner will be served. All young business women of the city are invited to attend. Miss Alice Campbell is supervising arrangements for the affair.

Tuesday, September 20 will bring a dinner meeting to be followed by a report on business girls' conference held this summer at Asilomar. The Misses Eloise Schrier and Betty Niedergall, delegates from the local club, will provide the program.

Announcement was made that there will be no meeting at the Y on September 27, as that is the date of the annual Y. W. C. A. worship service and dinner, plans for which will be announced soon.

For last night's dinner, Miss Humiston had arranged a colorfully-appointed table decked with tapers and yellow and red 'mums. Present with the hostess were the president, Leone Baxter and Roma Mayes, Jean Ema, Cecilia Plantamura, Eloise Schrier, Joy Townsley, Imogene McCauley, Laura Faye Thompson, Alice Campbell, Virginio Fritcher, Edith Monroe and Janice Yetmar.

Home Ceremony Unites Miss Coleman and Musician

Santa Anas were interested today in learning details of the wedding Sunday, September 4, of Miss Helen Jane Coleman, daughter of Mrs. A. Coleman, of Fullerton, and Jack Crowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crowley of El Paso, Tex.

The bride is well known in this city, where she has been employed in the office of the county Road department for the past three years. She attended Fullerton Junior college. Mr. Crowley, who is filling an engagement at Beverly Hills' Victor Hugo as a member of the Skinnay Ennis orchestra, will play at the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco later in the fall.

The wedding of the young couple took place at 1 o'clock in the afetrnoon in the Coleman home, where palms and ferns provided background for white flowers used in decorating. The Rev. Graham Hunter officiated. Mis Lois Weber of Garden Grove played the Wedding Marches, and accompaniment for Dawning" and "O Promise Me." Miss Eloise Lewis, who sang "At

Given in marriage by her brother, Ira F. Coleman of Fullerton, the bride wore a blue sheer alpaca frock trimmed in lace, and a smart little hat with flaring veil. Pink and white pompon dahlias formed her bouquet. The "something old" was a cameo pin belonging to Mrs. Garland Ross of this city, who treasures the brooch as her grandfather's gift to her grandmother on their wedding day. Mr. Crowley's gift of a gold bracelet was the "something new" of the bride's costume, while a handkerchief provided by Mrs. Coleman was "something borrowed." Miss Gladys Spencer, maid of honor, was in a black and white frock with yellow pompon dahlias. Gil Evans was best man.

White baby asters and tapers dedd to the charm of th elace-spread table at which wedding acke and other sweets were esrved during th ereception which followed the nuptials.

For traveling, the bride donned a black pin-striped suit with black suede accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Crowley are in Hollywood for the present while the orchestra completes the engagement at the Victor Hugo. Mr. Crowley had his schooling in El Paso, Tex.

Included on the wedding guest list were the Misses Ruth Johnson, Judy Williams, Romona Peshak, Gladys Spencer, Eloise Lewis, Grace Glazier, Lorene Thurlow, Lois Weber, Betty Wiswall, Gwen Griffin, Hazel Frye, Bette Mitchell; Messrs. and Mesdames Clifford Lakeman, Eldon Seifert, J. C. Parks, Pete Carpenter, Ira Coleman, Morris Hurley, Rudy Canje, Carl Loeffler, Ralph Sharpless; Dr. and Mrs. Garland C. Ross, Vier Lowry, Mrs. Dorothy Scott, Mrs. R. E. Glazier, Mrs. R. E. Chapman, R. B. Calhoun, and members of Skinnay Ennis' orchestra including Rylan Weston, John De Soto, Herb Stowe, Ned Briggs, Gil Evans, Jimmy Maxwell, Sonny Dawson and Skinnay Ennis.

1888 Bridal Pair

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Stoddard celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, September 4 with an open house affair in their home, 1138 East Washington avenue. Preceding the general observance was a family dinner planned as a surprise to the honored pair. The Stoddards' three daughters, Mrs. Al Ryherd of this city, Mrs. W. E. Bruce of Van Nuys and Mrs. W. F. Turner of Belton, Mo. were hostesses.

Revue of Fall Styles To Be Featured at Benefit Party

Meting last night in the Emil Wetzel home, 2647 North Main street, committee chairmen from Capistrano Y. L. I. completed all edtails in readiness for the gala dessert bridge and autumn style show which the Institute is staging Satuday afternoon in Ebell clubhouse.

Among matters discussed was the list of games to be played, and it was decided to include 500 as well as aution bridge and contract bridge. Prizes in all three divisions will be very lovely, and there will be many additional door pries. Reservations are still being received for tables, and additional ones will be provided for those who fail to make advance reservations, although the committee hopes that all will be in by Friday night.

Plans are mare for serving dessert promptly at 1 o'clock, and introducing the style revue immediately afterwards, with cards as the final feature of the afternoon. The smartest of wearing apparel in new fall modes will be modeled by attractive girls and women. The garments will be from the Rankin Dry Goods store.

Junior Y. L. I. members will assist Capistrano Institute throughout the afternoon, and will be especially active in serving dessert course and collecting tallies.

Committee chairmen present last night were Ada Wetzel, general chairman, Lillian Glaab, Margaret Young, Elizabeth Paine, Dorothy Gisler, Mary Louise Dierker, Minnetta Prager, Stella Engelman and Ethel Brown.

FAMILY GUESTS

Early arrival is being anticipated of Mrs. Hale Cheatham of Hawaii, who will be a guest in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill on West Seventeenth street. Mrs. Cheatham will be remembered as Miss Norma Ouverson, who went to Honolulu as dietician for Queen's hospital in that city. She was married a few months ago, but continued in her profession, and is now dietician for Mahelona hospital on the island of Kauai.

Her arrival will increase a little group of relatives now with Mr. and Mrs. Hill, for the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Ouverson, arrived a few days ago from Fertile, Iowa, accompanied by two other daughters and a son-in-law, Mrs. Larry Ritter, Mrs. Earl Kimball and Orville Solomonson.

Sigma Beta Chis Make Plans for Dance Saturday

Although members of Sigma Beta Chi sorority enjoyed bridge play and other party features Tuesday evening during their meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Stumm, 907 East First street, they devoted the greater part of the time to planning an approaching dance.

The affair will be held Saturday night at 9 o'clock in Ebell clubhouse, where music will be provided by Paul Stewart's eight-piece orchestra. Refreshments will be served. Miss Kristine Nielsen, sorority president, is in charge of arrangements for the party, which will be open to the public.

Hostesses at this week's meeting were Mrs. Stumm and Miss Hazel Forrester. Their guests were Mesdames Lee Hamilton, Don Davis, Neil Adams, Bruce Harnois, Noble Renneker, Howard Gould, Roy Lighthall, Floyd Epperly, Nelson Rogers, Kimball Pratt, and the Misses Lola Weethee, Kristine Nielsen, Hope Hackleton and Dorothy Schneider.

Mrs. Lighthall and Mrs. Davis won prizes for high scores in bridge. The co-hostesses observed an autumnal motif in decorations for the refreshment interval, spreading tables with yellow linens appointed with rust-hued pottery. Zinnias contributed to the colorful setting.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks' time in the home of Mrs. Lighthall, 1410 West Sixth street, with Miss Weethee as co-hostess.

SMOOTHER SLIPS A NECESSITY
PATTERN 4842
By ANNE ADAMS

Every smart woman must be a "smoothie" as far as her new slips are concerned. Just see how Anne Adams splendid Pattern 4842 illustrates our point. In the first place, it works "hand in glove" with autumn's slender-silhouette frocks. Every seam follows the curves of the body to perfection, just as do the lines of so many new dresses. No chance of an unsightly bulge with those long panels which may be cut straight to prevent "riding up" —or on the bias to more closely mold the figure. You may be sure too that there is plenty of comfort in the gathered bodice sections. And talking of comfort, the straps stay in place without the slightest persuasion. Illustrated sewing instructor included.

Pattern 4842 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 2 3-4 yards 39 inch fabric.

NEWS OF THE WORLD PORTRAYED IN PICTURES

REICH REHEARSES GRIM DRAMA ENTITLED 'WAR'

Demonstrating another instance of the care of detail and general efficiency of the German army which are impressing foreign observers at the current maneuvers, a machine gun unit is pictured above as it tries out a new type of shelter. Used under the eyes of Reichsfuehrer Hitler himself during sham battles by the 2d Army Corps at Gross-Born, the new military device is seen to be a camouflaged portable "fence," which can be carried forward by the gun crews as the line of battle advances. The men peppering away at the "enemy" formed part of Germany's nation-wide maneuvers whose announcement induced another spasm of war jitters in European chancellories.

Hail CIO Union

Thousands of jubilant miners are pictured above as they gathered at Jellico, Tenn., to celebrate the signing of a union contract between the Harlan County Coal Operators' Association and the United Mine Workers of America, backbone of the CIO. The contract marked the end of the long-drawn-out reign of terror which gave Harlan County, Ky., the name of "Bloody Harlan."

Girl Reds In Shirley Temple Roles

Congressman Dye declared that Shirley Temple was a "dupe" for Communist activities. So when the committee opened hearings in New York, a bevy of pretty Communist girls picketed the Federal building, where the Dies group was meeting, carrying signs that twitted Representative Martin Dies, committee chairman. Photo shows three of the picketers dressed in costumes like those worn by Shirley. Their placards read, "Tut, Tut, Mr. Dies, Shirley Temple is not subversive."

Prague's Boy Soldiers "Defend" Their Playground

Hull Keeps Tab

Backing Up Hull

Adding an exclamation mark to Secretary of State Hull's most recent appeal for world peace, the U. S. S. Lang, newest torpedo boat destroyer of the navy, slides gracefully down the ways at Kearney, N. J.

CHATTANOOGA GIRL, 12, GIVES LESSON IN ART OF HYPTOMISM

1.—Pretty but serious 12-year-old Sue Nye, above, stepped forward at a meeting of amateur magicians in Chattanooga, Tenn., and offered to do a hypnotism act. A 7th grader and daughter of a Chattanooga used car dealer, she never had performed in public before. Here the camera has recorded her penetrating gaze and the strange way she holds her hands as she begins an hypnosis.

2.—Because Taylor Gibson had been hypnotized before, Sue chose him as an easy subject. Ignoring spectators and cameramen, she started the attempt at hypnosis by removing Gibson's tie and opening his collar, as seen above. Then, as shown in the lower photo, she held up a coin and commanded Gibson to keep his eyes on it. "When your eyelids get heavy, close them," she droned. "When I count three, you will be sound asleep."

3.—After one minute, Gibson's body seemed to become rigid. Sue commanded him to fall backward—and he fell. The girl's father caught the unconscious subject, as pictured above. Later, with the aid of three other men, Gibson was stretched out on a rug where a physician examined him. The doctor, a student of Sigmund Freud's psychological theories, pronounced Gibson to be in a complete, "cataconic" state. His heart and breathing were reported to be slower.

4.—Sue Nye then proceeded to duplicate the old side-show stunt with the hypnotized subject. As seen in the photo at top, she had him placed on two supports standing at considerable distance apart. The subject remained perfectly rigid. Finally, the girl took him out of his apparent trance. The re-awakened subject is seen in the bottom photo looking rather weary. His first request was for a cigaret. Sue reported her eyes hurt a little.

Coast critics are of the opinion that if Bill Spalding's job will be saved for him at U. C. L. A. this fall, it will be Kenny Washington, 190-pound Negro halfback, who will do the saving. . . . It was Washington, you remember, who tossed that 66-yard pass to Hal Hirshon against Southern California last year.

Nan Grey, who plays a sea-going nurse in "The Storm," was performing an emergency appendicitis operation when I strolled on her set today. She did the scene so well that I complimented her when she came off the set. "I should play that part perfectly," she said. "Last week I flew to Houston, Texas, to be with my father when he had his appendix removed. I was with him in the operating room and naturally learned a lot by watching the surgeon. Before I left the hospital, I received a wire from the studio ordering me to rush back for this part."

Watched Beverly Roberts and Joe E. Brown make a scene in "Flirting With Fate"—a scene in which a troupe of galloping horsemen splashed them with mud as they sat in their swanky Rolls-Royce. Beverly, wiping away the mire that had plastered her face, complained bitterly about it. Joe grinned. "Why beef?" he said. "Remember how much benefit you've got from mud packs—at $5 a treatment. You're getting one for nothing here—you ought to be happy about it." Beverly grimly surveyed his homely pan. "Mr. Brown," she said gravely. "I don't want to be catty—but it strikes me you have more reason for rejoicing than I have."

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—(UP) — After sliding to new five year lows, wheat prices firmed on buying based on the strong action at Winnipeg and more favorable reports of the European political situation.

At the close wheat was up ⅜ to ¾ cent, corn up ⅝ cent, and oats ¼ cent higher.

Early easiness resulted from the weak Liverpool market where wheat again registered new lows since 1935. Strength at Winnipeg was responsible for turning prices up. A large export business in Manitobas was reported.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(UP)—An unconfirmed report that the Sudeten Germans had accepted the Czechoslovakian government's latest minority proposals as a basis for negotiation brought a spurt of activity and strength into the stock market during the fourth hour today.

Prices soared in a few minutes in volume so heavy that tickers fell several minutes behind. Gains ranged to 2 points in a brief period.

A brief relapse followed, but just before the close the list advanced again in the face of a United Press dispatch reporting that the Sudetens had suspended their study of Czech proposals because of further incidents involving their members.

The famous twin stars, Castor and Pollux, have been recognized as a pair for thousands of years, but modern instruments show us that they are of entirely different groups. Pollux is speeding in one direction at a rate of 16 miles a second, while Castor is traveling a separate course at about nine miles a second.

Butterflies taste with their legs. Their taste is 1600 times as sensitive as that of the human tongue in detecting the sweetness of sugar.

DRIVE CAREFULLY -SAVE A LIFE-

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1938

A PREDICAMENT

The Republicans and Democrats in California both find themselves in a predicament. Downey advocates the $30 a Week Plan and Merriam announces that his "position on the old age security is known through my endorsement nearly four years ago of the plan originated by Dr. Francis E. Townsend and to which principle, because it is nationwide in its application, I am giving support."

The Townsend Plan would give $400 a month to man and wife over 60 that they must spend, while the Downey Plan would give warrants for $60 a week to man and wife over 50 for which they can attempt to find somebody who will exchange something for the warrants.

To have two candidates for Governor who have no more honesty or foresight than to support this kind of plans, is a sad commentary on the electorate of California.

HOW MUCH SAVED?

About the only argument that the advocates of the $385,000 school bond issue have, with the present increase in taxes, is that the Federal Government will give 45 per cent and, thus, save the local taxpayers.

But this saving is more a theory than a reality. When the Federal Government makes donations, it tells who shall be hired and what wages shall be paid, so, if there were an actual need for the junior college, the local school district probably could build it on a competitive basis as cheaply as they could by the extra cost resulting from the Government control.

Then again there are very few people who do not believe that the Government, before they give up this theory that purchasing power can be increased by artificial wages and by pensions, etc., will make much greater offers than they do at present, in order to keep control. There is not much question but what the Federal Government will make a better offer than 45 per cent so that the theory that the bonds should be voted for now on account of the saving is not even a good argument.

GAINING ON DEATH

During the first six months of this year, 3670 automobile deaths were prevented in this country. That is based on a comparison of motor vehicle deaths in the first half of 1938 as against the same period in 1937. The decline in fatalities that began last November carried through encouragingly into July.

So far so good. But, as the National Safety Council points out, "This is no time to quit in our fight for safety. This is just the beginning. We've won a partial victory. Unremitting effort on the part of every motorist, pedestrian, traffic judge and law enforcement officer is needed if the victory is to be ultimately complete."

Some of the most dangerous driving months lie ahead. Traffic during September is always heavy. And with the coming of the rains, later on, plus the shorter daylight hours of fall and winter, motoring presents new and difficult hazards. There will be no time for standing still and praising past achievements in safety, until December 31 has passed, and the figures are all in.

A saving of 3670 lives is a magnificent thing. And it shows that traffic accidents, and pessimists to the contrary, can be sharply reduced. During the first half of this year, there was more and better organized community and state safety work than ever before. We have learned gradually that sporadic safety campaigns solve no problem, and that permanence and continuity of effort are vital. We are learning what courteous, "fixless" law enforcement can do. And we also are learning the excellent results that follow better traffic engineering and scientific traffic control.

You're one of the soldiers in this fight against death. The country needs your help. Keep up the good work, and make it still better.

WATER FRONT CRISIS
(Boston Globe)

The declared water front war between the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization is far more than a possibility of inconvenience. It is a prospect of paralysis.

Sifting the conflicting claims one gathers that the C. I. O. has in its membership a very large proportion of the seamen on the Atlantic and the Pacific Coasts. The A. F. of L. counts on the loyalty of the organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots. The longshoremen, who have membership in the A. F. of L., have not been averse to unloading ships manned by members of the C. I. O. But both labor groups are strong enough to produce a terrific struggle should they meet in a head-on collision. The organization of the Federation's new maritime department, accompanied by the announcement, "The time is ripe. We are going to drive the C. I. O. off the seas," is abundant reason for public apprehension.

The threatened crisis brings to mind the wisdom of Joseph P. Kennedy's suggestion, when chairman of the Maritime Board, that there be set up an agency with authority over the entire subject. Sitting idle while a jurisdictional dispute is fought to a finish is too much for the country to bear.

STALIN SHOOTS HIS ADMIRALS
(Chicago Tribune)

A year ago last June soviet Russia gave the world a shock by announcing that the Red army generals, including the marshal who was chief in command and all the important officers of the staff and of the war department, had been shot. Now announcement is made that all the chief Russian admirals and naval experts have been executed as traitors and enemies of the people. The report says that there is not a single man left in the soviet fleet who occupied a high position a year ago. The treachery of the fleet commanders is explained as consisting of a policy of emphasizing defense formations, such as submarine units, and insisting upon it when the political committeemen wanted to build big battleships and cruisers.

Stalin and his soviet executioners nicely timed their announcement of the worthlessness of the Russian fleet to hit Europe at the peak of the Czechoslovakian difficulty, when Russia was being asked what it would be worth if Hitler attempted one of his Napoleonic moves. Whatever Russia may have said confidentially to its unhappy allies would seem to be of small importance compared with the announcement it makes to the world that Stalin is still shooting everybody of any importance. He is expressing his confidence in the military strength of the soviets by destroying the army and navy commands.

When he shot the generals a year ago, Japan, Germany, and Italy said: "That's all we wanted to know," and proceeded to act upon the information publicly given that the Red army was no good. Japan made a feint at the Siberian border to see if the news could be relied upon and the Russians proved that it could be by retiring from the territory disputed. Thereupon Japan attacked China and its conquest, although taking longer than the Japanese expected, is still rolling on without interference. The shooting of the admirals repeats this demonstration of negligibility at another moment which is regarded as critical.

Russia under Stalin continues to advertise that the only good communist is a dead communist and that the only peaceful Marxian community will be found in a graveyard. Stalin is trying to prove that communism can get along with capitalism and also that it cannot get along with communism. Americans may make note of it.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

A SOUND POINT—MR. ROOSEVELT

In Roosevelt's speech on Labor Day he quoted from Lord Bryce's "American Commonwealth." In this quotation, he says that an eminent journalist in 1908 had said that two great parties were like two bottles. Each bore a label denoting the kind of liquor it contained but each was empty. This, at any rate, may be said that the parties may seem to be in error by neglecting to discover and work out any principles capable of solving the problems which now perplex the country.

As we have repeatedly said, the Republican party has not had a constructive idea since the Sherman Anti-Trust Law in 1890 and the present Democratic party has gotten so far away from the Grover Cleveland idea and the Thomas Jefferson idea of democracy, that there is no recognition of the original principles at all. Had the people of this country stuck to the original principles of the democratic party, as expressed by the great Democratic Congressman, William Bourke Cochran, in 1894, we would now have some strong party to rally to. In discussing class legislation, Cochran, in this speech said: "Its enactment will be the entering wedge in a system of oppressive class legislation. I protest against this betrayal of our ancient principles. I protest against the treason to our faith, to our platform, to our traditions, to our heroes. I protest against partial laws whether they be intended to favor the few or the many. I demand for all men the same equality before the law which they enjoy in the sight of God."

It is because we have gotten away from the original principles of equality before the law of the Democratic party because we have gotten away from the approach to a free enterprise system, of the Democratic party that we are in trouble. But, instead of going back to the kind of principles and government that made this the richest and greatest country in the world, both the Republicans and the New Dealers and especially the present administration are going farther and farther away from these principles. No person in all history can ever cite any place where the principles advocated by both the Republicans and the New Deal have ever materially added to the general welfare of a people. It is a most expensive error.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES AND ROMAN HISTORY

As one sees Roosevelt attempting to control the nomination of Senators in Georgia and Maryland, a quotation from Gibbons' "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" is timely:

"The reformation of the Senate was one of the first steps in which Augustus put aside the tyrant and professed himself the father of his country . . . he examined the list of Senators, expelled a few members . . . persuaded nearly two hundred to prevent the shame of an expulsion by a voluntary retreat, raised the qualifications . . . created a sufficient number of patrician families, and accepted for himself the honorable title of Prince of the Senate.

"But while he thus restored the dignity, he destroyed the independence of the Senate

"The principles of a free Constitution are irrevocably lost when the legislative power is dominated by the Executive."

Will history repeat itself?

Attention, Committee On Un-American Activities!

General Hugh S.
JOHNSON SAYS

BETHANY BEACH, Del.—The appointment of a committee of the Assistant Secretaries of the War and Navy Departments and Mr. Delano to study electirc power hook-ups in the industrial areas of the East was a necessary defense measure. Ambassador Bullitt said in France on Sunday that no one could prophesy that we will not enter the threatened European war. Maybe not, but the chances against our sending troops again are a thousand to one. Notwithstanding that, the sub-Cabinet power committee is a necessary defense measure. Why?

Well, during the World War the industrial area north of the Potomac river and east of the Alleghany mountains was so crammed with war orders as actually to threaten the supply of our armies and the Allies. There developed tremendous shortages, not only of power, but also of labor, coal, iron, steel and—above all—of transportatoin. "Bottle-neck" cities like Pittsburgh caused railroad traffic jams so stubborn and so thick that many war factories slowed down or ceased for want of essential material. The electric power-load grew for in excess of the available supply. The situation was partly saved only when the Federal Government moved in with an almost dictatorial control and ruthlessly rationed out the scant supply to the most necessary uses.

The truly appalling effect of this congestion was never made clear to the country. The war was won so unexpectedly and the armistice brought such a feeling of relief that nobody cared to take the time and trouble to see how near this and other similar causes came to bringing disaster.

It is the hard brutal fact that the American supply program was on the verge of complete breakdown in the autumn of 1918. Pershing's last drive used up more truck transportation than we could replace. Except for purchases from the Allies, our artillery and aircraft programs were complete duds. Although we had for three years been furnishing great quantities of artillery ammunition to the Allies, it is my recollection that we were able to get only about 10,000 rounds of shrapnel from American factories to our own troops before the armistice. The vast swarms of airplanes with which had promised to "darken the skies of France" never appeared and we were far behind our program on dozens of other necessary items.

It is impossible to make clear just how tragic this kind of failure might have been had the war taken only a slightly different trend. General Pershing had cabled in the sharpest terms that if he could not get supplies when, where and as he asked for them he could not be responsible for results in France. He has told me since that, if the armistice had not occurred when it did, the American advance would have halted for lack of motor transport.

Now much of the congestion that was responsible for this paralysis of supply was caused by the placing of Allied orders before we entered the war. While in another general European war because of lack of credit, there might be no such overwhelming sudden demand, there is no assurance of that and there certainly would be none.

It is a risk we should never take again. The appointment of this power committee shows that the government is aware of the danger. But it is only one step among many that should be taken to avoid the same peril. The whole industrial and transportation problem in the area should be checked over to see what ought to be done to prevent another "congested district" (as we used to call it) if the blow so strongly threatened this summer should finally fall. The War Department has done some work in that direction but nowhere near enough.

Utopias Old and New

Fellow citizens:

A Utopia is an ideal commonwealth. The Utopias of literature include Plato's Republic, Plutarch's Sparta, More's Utopia and others. In our own country, there have been many utopian, communistic and socialistic experiments. "Brook Farm" communistic experiment, by such great and good men as Ripley, Hawthorne, Dana and others, failed. Read all about it in a book called "The Blithedale Romance." Other Utopias followed, founded by persons who were neither great nor good. Oneida Community, N. Y., organized as "Bible Communists" failed as a Bible enterprise but succeeded as a business institution, and is still doing a successful capitalistic business, in hardware, traps, etc. in Niagara Falls, N. Y. Kenwood, N. Y. and in Ontario, Canada. Business and the Bible do not seem to mix. The 'Perfectionists' Colony of Pennsylvania, a community of voluntary eunuchs of both sexes, believed in the separation of the sexes, and so had separate buildings for men and women, though, whether that arrangement succeeded in its purpose,—deponent sayeth not—but the colony became extinct for the lack of issue. The 'Ruskin Socialistic Colony,' in Tenn., whose members were accepted on payment of $500, believed in all loving each other and each loving all. But—the story of its failure is told by a medical member in a book called "The Last Days of Ruskin." 'Joe's Bay, Wash., socialistic colony ended in litigation and disunity. The "Port Angeles Colony" organized by Civil War veterans, ended in uncivil war, when it was charged a willing few did all the hard jobs and got tired and quit. It also ended in litigation. Then there was the 'Job Harriman' (an ex-minister of the gospel) colony in the San Fernando valley, later moved to final dissolution in Alabama —proving that the world is not run by its failures. The 'Townsend Plan' (a $200-a-month pipe dream) failed for all but the few founders—as usual! And now comes the latest Utopia of "Ham and Eggs for Californians," the product of shallow thinkers, but clever promoters, who by lowering the age limit for young men of 50 captured more fee-gudgeons and dollars for themselves, and more votes for cheap political candidates who endorsed the 'plan.'

A need is relieved—not rewarded and it is only unscrupulous demagogues who lack the power, the will, and the ability to either relieve or reward any thing—except themselves at the expense of others—who attempt to raise a benefaction into a bribe—for dollars and votes!

Most of us were at the peak of our mental, physical and professional ability at the age of 50. No one dreamed of calling us 'old,' still less of putting us into the old-age class by legal enactment. We cannot help the advance of old age, but we need not legally anticipate it by law. Yet this latest California State Utopia, would bribe every citizen over 50 to stop work and penalize every citizen under 50 to work for those who stop work. The theory is, that the 'jobs' vacated by these 50-year-old youngsters will be eagerly snatched up by a waiting-line of college and university graduates. As if any bright, alert and ambitious young university graduate is looking for the kind of job vacated by the type of man willing to become old at 50 to get the phantom reward of a promised "thirty warrants" every Thursday, which will be about as hard to exchange for value as a 'magazine coupon.' Yet these same demagogues, when trying to do business as 'grievance-brokers' tell us that no man can hope for a job after 40. This is a sample of the reasoning efficiency of these professional promoters of 'pipe dreams for the aged'—by years or by legal enactment. I personally cannot see a 'job' that a man of 50 will be willing to quit that will be worth anyone's taking. These young men of 50 are the dupes of a group of professional grievance - mongers, whose job it is to find grievances for those who are not conscious of having any, till told about them. A healthy person who wants to quit work for some 'warrants' that look to him like real money —but are not—is a tired citizen who wants to get the prize without running the race. When one asks where the cash is coming from to pay "$30 every Thursday for Life" its speakers get mad, and invite one to write one's question to "Headquarters at 1731 N. Highland avenue, Hollywood, California." When Alfalfa Bill Murray of Oklahoma was asked on a similar occasion where the money was to come from he said, "That's a detail and it's too early in the campaign to talk about details." Several states have had to drop from 15,000 to 20,000 old people from the pension rolls, because of the same pre-election haziness about 'details!' It is this inattention to 'details' by inexperienced and uniformed persons, that is responsible for the fact that several states are rushing headlong into bankruptcy on the crest of ill-considered legislation. "And, (says John T. Flynn, in a recent magazine article), along with the states' finances, they are preparing to bankrupt, a far more precious asset—the character of their people." In conclusion, don't think that this humble scribe, in common with richer and better people, objects to pensions, in good honest and available legal tender. But that is a story I should like to tell in another letter if space is accorded to me.

HENRY WEEKS.

THE GREAT FARM FAILURE
From the New York Herald Tribune

Mark Sullivan calls attention to the fact that the prices of many farm commodities today are lower than they were when President Roosevelt made his famous statement about raising farm prices, on October 23, 1933 ("Do it we will!") Wheat was quoted on October 23, 1933, at 84 cents. Yesterday it was quoted at 66 1-2. Oats were 34 1-4 cents then; 24 1-2 yesterday. Rye stood at 56 1-4 then! 42 yesterday. To offset this, hogs and cattle today are twice what they were in October, 1933. Butter and eggs, however, are about the same. Cotton in October, 1933, stood at 9.16 cents a pound; today it is 8.25.

TAXES
From San Francisco Chronicle

The American people would rather have a big national tax bill, with the means to pay it, than a small national tax bill and nothing to pay it with. We would rather have a huge national expenditure, paid for with low taxes on huge turnover, than small national expenditures paid for with heavy taxes on small turnover. The vital question is not how much the tax collector takes, but how much he leaves us.

The aim should be to get necessary revenues by taxes that are as nearly fair as taxes can be, laid for revenue purposes only and not as pretexts for theories, and so levied as to create the least possible disturbance in production of new wealth. Taxing "undivided surplus profits" has a popular sound, but it means forcing the owners to take out in dribs and dabs what for their own profit and the national prosperity requires should be left in reserve for expansion and creating more goods, more jobs, more or better customers.

Confiscation is unfair to owners, but it is damnable to the workers for whom it destroys opportunity to work, to produce, to consume. Give the tax proposals the acid test, not of how they sound but of what they mean and will do. This is what hits the average American.

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Fantastic tales are being passed around suggesting the government hushed investigation of the Hawaiian clipper disaster when some evidence of sabotage was discovered.

It is true the "Mr. Watson" aboard was really Wah Sun Choy, Chinese restaurant proprietor of Jersey City and New York; true also that he was chairman of a Chinese war relief fund committee and carried a small sum of money (amount unknown) destined for China.

What started erroneous deductions from these facts probably was a letter written by one of his friends to the state department here after the accident. This friend said the Chinese money carrier had feared for his life. The letter was turned by state over to the commerce department as a routine matter.

But a complete investigation is being conducted by the government and not a shade of hint has been found to encourage a theory of foul play. In fact, the evidence points to another conclusion.

Here are the facts:

Plane was flying at 8,000 feet in fog and rain when it last reported. Therefore, it could not have been reached by a surface craft. Nature of the oil slick on the water suggests the pilot was maneuvering for landing when the crash came. This indication leads away from a time bomb theory.

At the same time, two scientists were aboard studying transportation of microbes in upper air currents. They had opened the hatch of the ship and had placed their instruments outside.

The experts agree this unusual circumstance, which created a strong draft through the ship, probably initiated the cause of the disaster but they have not been able to prove just how.

The investigation has not been called off; will be completed shortly.

Miss Perkins fought for and won installation of the new wage-hour administration in her labor department, but it appears she might as well have let it go to the zoo.

Plugging Administrator Andrews is displaying a tendency toward independence. His office is saying nothing, but has found legal ground for such a stand. Section 4 of the act is somewhat tricky but seems to make Andrews his own boss.

Those people who turned down the appointment earlier because they thought they would be under the management of the labor secretary apparently did not read the act carefully.

At the capitol they tell the story about the senator who was out playing golf alone. It was late in the evening. A thunder shower came up. He squeezed himself into a hollow tree. But when the shower had passed he found he could not get himself into position to squeeze out again. He was stuck and seemed likely to remain there all night.

Wet, bedraggled and worried he cursed his predicament and wondered what he had ever done to deserve such a trick of fate. He set to analyzing his past deeds to pass the time away, and after an hour or more at it, suddenly exclaimed: "By golly, I voted for Roosevelt in '36."

Whereupon, he felt so small, that, to his utter amazement, he began to shrink and lo and behold, within a minute he stepped out of the hole a free man.

But that one is no sharper than the one told in the President's party about the capitalist in Wall street who discovered 5 was his lucky number. He went through an amazing series of adventures in which 5's were always turning up. He was assigned to a hotel room 555 was taken up by bellboy number 5, after riding train 555, found the telephone number of a friend was 505. This was too much, so he asked a bellboy the number of a racetrack bookie, discovered it was 5055, called the number and bet a thousand dollars on the fifth horse entered in the fifth race.

Anxiously awaiting the result, he was dismayed to find the horse ran true to his number—fifth. He tore out the radio, tossed it through a window and exclaimed:

"Dog-gone (or better) that fellow Roosevelt. You can't depend on him."

Socialized Medicine

By ERIK McKINLEY ERIKSSON

For months there has been going on in this country discussion and consideration of plans for what might be called "socialized" or state medicine. When the National Health Conference assembled in the national capital a few weeks ago, a committee set up by President Roosevelt presented an ambitious plan for socialized medicine calling for the expenditure of the enormous sum of $8,500,000,000 over a ten year period. A sum of $250,000,000 a year would be used to enlarge the public health services and to aid in the suppression of cancer, venereal disease, tuberculosis, pneumonia and malaria. Another $165,000,000 would be set aside for the promotion of hygiene of infancy and maternity, medical care of children and aid to crippled children.

To extend the facilities of mental, tuberculosis and general hospitals and to provide health and diagnostic centers, a total of $146,050,000 would be spent annually. Under the fourth phase of the plan from $50,000,000 to $400,000,000 a year would be made available by the federal government to aid the states in providing medical care for those already affected by the social security program and for others unable to pay for medical treatment. A fifth part of the plan would provide for the increase and improvement of medical services for self-supporting persons. This would be financed by general taxation, by special assessments or by contributions on the part of the beneficiaries. Sixth, and finally, the proposed plan would provide temporary disability insurance to protect against the loss of wages through sickness.

As usual, the advocates of the plan seek to justify the vast expenditures proposed on the ground that one-third of the population is without adequate medical care. Of course, nobody knows whether this is true or not. It is easy for the New Dealers to make such a claim but quite another matter to prove it. Undoubtedly there are many people who have not had adequate medical care. Whether the situation can be remedied without resort to socialized medicine is a debatable question.

Officials of the American Medical Association, who have consistently opposed even private group health associations, have been outspoken in their condemnation of the proposed plan for federal promotion of health. They fear, with good reason, that the plan would result in political domination and regimentation of the medical profession. They hold that any program should be purely local and be based on local needs. No plan, they further contend, would work successfully on a national scale. The whole proposal, they hold, has been formulated without proper consideration and is fundamentally unsound.

A small minority group in the medical association, on the other hand, insist that the medical profession alone cannot cope with the nation's health problem. Only through governmental assistance, they assert, can the health of the people be safeguarded.

In passing judgment in the matter, the public should be reminded that the federal government already maintains a public health service; that it is actively participating in the campaigns to suppress particularly cancer and venereal disease; and that it is, and has been for years, subsidizing state programs for the promotion of maternal and infant welfare.

But these activities are but a fraction of what would be done under the proposed plan. Conceivably, such a plan might force the country's physicians to give up private practice and assume salaried positions on the government payroll. This might appear attractive to the unsuccessful doctors but certainly not appeal to the successful medical practitioners. That it would result in inferior medical service would be almost a certainty for under governmental regimentation there would be little incentive to do more than routine work.

In any case, it might be well to make the present social security program workable before launching a health program that will cost billions of dollars.
